WILD AUTO RIPS SIGN OFF STORE, JUMPS TO WALK

Olive Street Scene of Panic When Big Red Machine Comes Tearing Down Sidewalk and Collides With Goldman Bros.' Window.

LEAPS FROM STREET WHEN CONTROL OF IT IS LOST.

Incandescent Lights on Board Twenty Feet Long Are Demolished—Machine Escapes Without Damage and Driver Without Injury.

A capricious red automobile, driven by George A. Taylor of 618 Walton avenue and bearing visitor's license No. 19, which the license commissioner's office records show was taken out by Mrs. L. Kellogg of Chicago, climbed off the rough paving stones of Olive street Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, ran 75 feet on the smoother sidewalk, and then dashed itself against the front of Goldman Bros.' store at 1104 Olive street.

A big electric sign, 2 feet by 20 feet, which adorned the front of the store, was the chief sufferer. The auto hit it at one end and raked it to the other, with the result that nothing but shattered glass and a long hole showed that anything had ever been in its place.

The sudden charge of the machine at the store front and the crash of the shattered sign, caused a panic. There were wild reports that the machine had jumped through the plate glass window and taken possession of the store. Other alarming rumors of fatalities, or at least serious injuries, followed close upon the heels of the first.

But the auto stopped when it had finished the sign. It was satisfied and ready to go along and behave itself. After Mr. Taylor had expressed to the owners of the store his entire willingness to pay for his auto's sport, and had told a fat and perspiring policeman all about it, he climbed back into the vehicle, pulled something and pushed something else, tooted his horn and went on his way, the machine taking the leap from the sidewalk back into the street with great seeming ease and delight.

"I don't know what got into the beast," said Mr. Taylor. "I was coming east at a moderate speed and seemed to have a clear path and easy running. But suddenly the machine took a notion to get out of the street and upon the sidewalk, and despite all I could do it charged straight at the sign.

"It is a good machine, which has heretofore shown itself tractable, patient and fond of its master. But it was evidently too gay this morning."

STONE POLICEMAN; HEAD CUT; MAY DIE

Martin Egan Enters Saloon in Reply to Cries for Help; Rescues Man and Is Assaulted.

Emergency Special Officer Martin Egan of the Tenth district is at his home, 4410 St. Ferdinand avenue, suffering from a dangerous scalp wound, and Patrick Cronin, 4563 St. Ferdinand avenue; Clarence Pemberton, 4587 Kennerly avenue; "Granny" Pettingill, Taylor avenue and North Market street; Eugene Cronin, 4546 St. Ferdinand avenue; Eugene Reed 4572 St. Ferdinand avenue; and Wm. O'Dowd, Deer street and Evans avenue, are under arrest pending investigation of a fight in the saloon of W. D. Reeder, 4490 St. Ferdinand avenue, Monday night.

While trying to make an arrest following the fight, Egan received the wound which may cause his death. None of the other persons engaged in the affray was injured. Egan's wound was received as he started out of the saloon door with Patrick Cronin, whom he had placed under arrest. As his back was turned a shower of stones was thrown at him, one striking his head and rendering him unconscious. Cronin and the other members of the party scattered, but were afterwards arrested.

M. B. Walton of 4443 St. Ferdinand avenue, to rescue hom Egan entered the saloon, helped the wounded policeman to his home.

Walton says that as he was returning home Monday night about midnight he saw the six men under arrest, waiting for him. An old grudge existed between them, he says, and fearing for his safety he ran into Reeder's saloon. The six men followed him and began attacking him. Reeder ran to his assistance.

Walton charges that Patrick Cronin drew a knife and attempted to cut him and that he also attempted to slash Reeder.

While the melee was in progress, Egan heard the cries for help, and entering the saloon with drawn revolver, stopped the fight, placing Patrick Cronin under arrest.

Other members of the party, according to Walton, ran out a side door, and picking up stones threw them at Egan just as he was leaving the door. He fell unconscious and the men, excepting Walton and Reeder, fled.

PRESIDENT FRANCIS PACIFIES ANGRY CINCINNATIANS

Delegation Were Not Welcomed at Festival Hall, but Accept Invitation to Dinner, Where Misunderstanding Is Explained Away.

MAYOR FLEISCHMANN FIRST THOUGHT A SNUB INTENDED

Invitation Was Extended in Person by Secy. Stevens, He Says, With Promise That Delegation Would Be Fittingly Received.

SPEECH OF MR. LOGAN OF CINCINNATI AT THE FAIR.

Ladies and Gentlemen: We are assembled here at the invitation of the Exposition management. We have received no word from President Francis or Mayor Rolla Wells explaining their non-appearance. We know that there can be no misunderstanding as to the time and place because the Exposition management itself arranged the program for us to meet here at Festival Hall. We consider that we have been insulted. The quartet will now sing "Good Old Cincinnati" and then we will follow the band to our Ohio building, where we know we will be welcome.

A supposed snub to the visiting Cincinnati delegation at the World's Fair Tuesday morning was more than atoned for by the explanations and hospitality of President Francis and Mayor Wells at a dinner in the Tyrolean Alps this afternoon.

This is Cincinnati day, and 250 representative citiens of the Buckeye metropolis journeyed to the Fair to be welcomed, as they expected, by President Francis and Mayor Wells at 11 o'clock. But the welcoming officials came not and the wrath and indignation of the visitors waxed great.

At the dinner in the Tyrolean Alps this afternoon, attended by 14 representative members of the delegation, Mayor Wells stated that he had been called away to attend the funeral of a friend and upon arriving home at noon, and learning of numerous telephone calls for him from the World's Fair he had hurried to do all honors to the visitors.

President Francis explained that he had been downtown on business and could have met the Cincinnatians, but was not aware that he was expected to welcome them. The late Col. Culp, chairman of the committee on ceremonies, he said, had made arrangements for the entertainment of the day, and since his death another had taken charge, but had failed to advise him that he was on the program for a welcome speech.

Cincinnati sent 250 of its prominent business men to the World's Fair. They were led by Mayor Julius Fleischmann, a rising young man, and Congressman "Nick" Longworth. The party came by special train and all along the route was lavishly entertained by officials and business men of the cities.

They came here by special invitation. Secretary Walter B. Stevens of the World's Fair extended the invitation in person. He went to Cincinnati, spoke before the commercial bodies and asked them to come to the Fair and have a good time.

They came, had a good time on the way, went to the Inside Inn, and at 10:30 this morning, bebadged and jubilant, led by a Cincinnati band, they marched to Festival Hall, where Mayor Wells was to welcome them and President Francis was to open up several bottles of compliments.

On the way from the Inside Inn the crowd swelled. Every Ohio man who was captured was given a badge and pulled into the procession. By the time the procession reached Festival Hall there were 500 men wearing Cincinnati badges in line.

Their cheers made the pipes of the giant organ roar in sympathy. The band which they had brought played a rousing number. The Kilwinning Quintette, composed of singing Masons, sang a gay song extemporized by one of the members and expressing the happiness of Cincinnatians in being so royally welcomed (as they hoped they would be) to the great St. Louis World's Fair. It was not intended as a joke, but Mayor Fleischmann laughs now when he thinks of it.

When the Kilwinnings concluded the committee, failing to discover Mayor Wells or President Francis in the audience, resorted to the bandmaster again, and he played vociferously. Then the Kilwinnings were called out to kill a little time with pleasant song. Then more band, then more Kilwinning.

And so an hour passed.

The crowd had arrived at Festival Hall at 11 o'clock. At noon, there being no word from the Mayor or Pres. Francis, and no substitutes appearing, the committee in charge of the Cincinnati excursion gathered back of the organ and consulted.

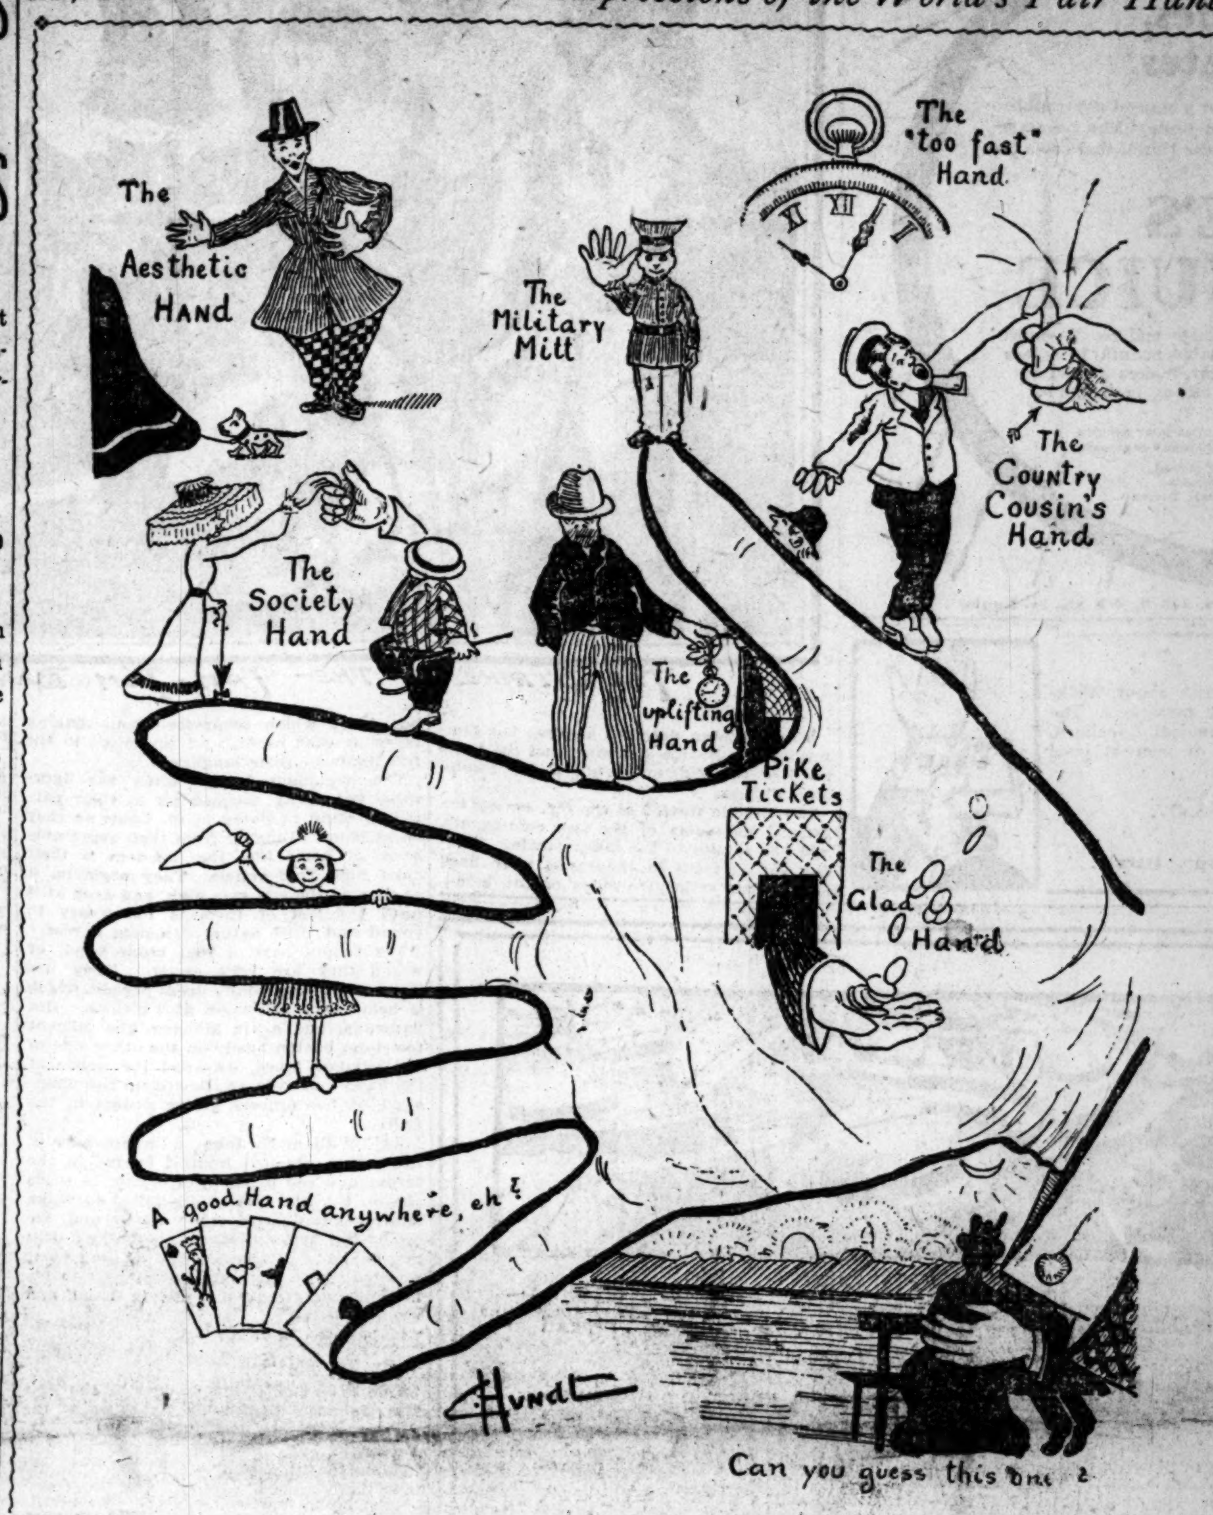

Mayor Fleischmann was effervescing with rage. Congressman Longworth was congratulating Ohio that Senator Foraker had been unable to come. They resolved to tell the audience the truth, and Charles Logan, a prominent business man of Cincinnati, who was the coolest member of the party, was sent out on the stage to make the terrible announcement.

Mayor Fleischmann said to the Post-Dispatch:

"There can be no doubt that we were deliberately insulted. We came on the special invitation of Secretary Stevens, who came to Cincinnati and delivered the invitation in person. When we arrived we wanted to go to the Ohio building for our exercises, but the Exposition people wanted us to go to Festival Hall, and made arrangements for us to go there.

"We would not have gone there otherwise. Mayor Wells and President Francis would be there, we were told. We waited more than an hour for them and then we were forced to express our indignation and retire."

TIME LIMIT ON SINGING MADE A SESSION SONGLESS.

The fact that there was no music on the Federation program last night is explained this morning by the statement that Miss Jessie L. Ringen, soprano, and the Federation committee on music failed to agree. It is stated that Miss Ringen declined to sing at all unless she could sing several times, and that the Federation committee wished her to sing only once.

PAID FOR STAR BOARDER'S LAUNDRY

Druggist Koch Says This Indignity Was Too Great to Bear and Seeks Divorce.

Adolph Koch, a druggist of 1200 North Eighth street, obtained a divorce from Mildred Koch in Division No. 2 of the circuit court Tuesday morning.

Mr. Koch stated on the stand that he and his wife were married June 2, 1894, and lived together until Jan. 22, 1904. He stated that after they were married they lived at 1307 Morgan street until last summer, when his wife began to visit the race tracks. She became such a regular that she went to the tracks nearly every afternoon, and according to Koch's statement, took the money he would give her and also the proceeds of the boarding house of which she was the owner and bet it on the races. If she won, the money was hers, but if she lost, she would apply to him for more money. "The life of a druggist's wife is too slow for me," she told him. "The gee-gees for mine," meaning the races.

Koch averred that his wife was unusually interested with a certain star boarder, and that on Derby day she went to the track and "made a killing" with money he had given her for the maintenance of the house. She came home and, he says, did not give him a cent of the money, but lavished it on the star boarder, buying him pretty neckties etc. She would also wrap up the boarder's linen with that of her husband and send it all to the laundry. She would then send her husband for it and he would be compelled to pay for star boarder's "laundry."

Driver Is Fined.

Morris Cloud, a colored driver, was fined $10 by Judge Tracy in police court Tuesday morning for striking Mrs. N. B. Burr of 421 South Euclid avenue with a whip. He went to Mrs. Burr's home and asked for a drink, and upon being refused struck her.

MISS ROOSEVELT TO ARRIVE FRIDAY

It Is Announced President's Daughter Will Leave Washington on Thursday for Visit to Miss Catlin.

According to the latest Washington dispatch Miss Alice Roosevelt will leave Washington on Thursday for her promised visit to St. Louis, where she will be the guest of Miss Irene Catlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Catlin of Vandeventer place.

She will probably arrive in St. Louis Friday night.

Among the several entertainments Miss Roosevelt is expected to attend will be a ball next Monday evening in the German building, at which the host will be Dr. Theodore Lewald, the German commissioner.

Other guests of this occasion will be Baron and Baroness Bussche, of the Germany embassy, who leave for St. Louis Friday.

Miss Catlin will also give a ball in Miss Roosevelt's honor, probably at the Country Club.

REFUSED DROWNING BOY AID.

Tramp Would Not Assist Ernest Harrison of Venice, Ill.

Ernest Harrison, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Harrison of Venice, Ill., was drowned Monday afternoon, while swimming in a water hole near the C. & A. tracks with two boy companions.

The hole was about 12 feet deep and had been washed out by recent floods. It is supposed that young Harrison was attacked with cramps. He cried for help and his companions went to his assistance, but were unable to help him and called to two tramps who were in the vicinity.

The men came up, but refused to help the boys rescue their companion. The hole was dragged and the body was found this morning.

BRYAN TALKS WITH CHAIRMAN JONES

Nebraskan Says His Views on Public and Party Questions Have Not Changed.

William Jennings Bryan spent 45 minutes in St. Louis Tuesday en route from his old home in Salem, Ill., to Fayette, Mo., where he will deliver a lecture tonight before the Central College Oratorical Society.

From Union Station, Mr. Bryan hurried to the Jefferson Hotel, where he had a light breakfast, and then went into a 10 minutes' conference with Chairman James K. Jones of the national Democratic committee.

Just what transpired at this meeting neither Mr. Bryan or Mr. Jones would say. The visitor declined to discuss politics, except to say that his position on all political questions is the same it has always been.

"I think Mr. Bryan stands where he has always stood," said Senator Jones after the conference. "We discussed politics just a few minutes. Most of the conversation was taken up with personal matters."

Mr. Jones was asked if he favored a reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform.

"I believe the convention will settle that matter," he replied. "Personally I believe in the Kansas City platform, but the convention will dispose of that question satisfactorily, I am sure.

"I consider Judge Parker a very able man," said Senator Jones in response to a question. Beyond this Mr. Jones would say nothing. He says he is not now and has never been a candidate for national committeeman.

Mr. Bryan will return to St. Louis Wednesday morning. Apparently he is in excellent health and looks more portly than ever. He was attired in his customary suit of black with black, wide-brim hat.

His appearance at he hotel attracted little more than passing attention.

THUNDERSTORMS AGAIN DUE

Cooler Weather Will Accompany Repetition of Showers, Says Local Bureau Forecaster.

Thunderstorms and showers for another day or two are the best the weather bureau can see ahead, and the promise of cooler weather is not given until Wednesday afternoon or night.

The forecast: "Showers and thunderstorms tonight and Wednesday; warmer tonight; cooler Wednesday afternoon or night; fresh to brisk southerly winds."

WOMEN FROWN ON MARRIAGE AFTER DIVORCE

Vote to Abolish Office of Honorary President Explained by Reference to Recent Action of a Former Head of Federation.

POLICE SQUAD DOUBLED IN ANTICIPATION OF ELECTION.

Ticket Chosen by Nominating Committee, With Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker for President, Is Warmly Praised by Mrs. Denison.

The divorce question made its influence subtly felt at Tuesday morning's session of the Geenral Federation of Women's Clubs at the Odeon, and as a consequence the federation has now no honorary presidents.

So quietly was the voice of the convention expressed that by the uninitiated what was intended as a rebuke for one woman was mistaken for a mark of honor for another. Yet so well grounded and so thoroughly understood was the underlying principle upon which the federation has at previous bi-ennials gone on record that the motion made by Mrs. Ellen M. Henrotin of Chicago Tuesday morning was passed unanimously.

All was calm as a summer's day when the storm raged in the clubwoman's heart was precipitated by Mrs. Henrotin. She stood up in a box near the state and in clear, distinct tones that commanded silence said:

"Mrs. President, I move that this convention rescind the action of the Federation at Denver in 1898 by which each woman who has served two terms as president is made an honorary president of the federation."

The hust that came over the assemblage was impressive, and when the [illegible]dent put the question a unanimous chorus of firm, positive "ayes" carried it.

"Does it mean that Mrs. Denison, who has served but one term and is not a candidate for re-election, is to be made an honorary president?" asked an innocent visitor.

"Not a bit of it," replied another delegate in suppressed accents; "it means that the Federation is to have no honorary presidents henceforth, that Mrs. Henrot in herself an honorary president, sacrifices that position that the honor may be denied a certain former president who was married recently to a man who had been but two weeks divorced."

Precaution Taken Against "Indians."

The police doubled their force at the Odeon Tuesday.

It was election day at the biennial convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Heretofore there have been two officers at the doors.

Tuesday morning this slight force was reinforced by a sergeant and another patrolman.

Nobody seemed to know just why [the] increase in police protection had been made. It did not seem likely that there would be any encounters at the polls, and none of the candidates, so far as anyone knew, had cried:

"Indians!"

It is suspected that the police simply heard there was to be an election and that they marshaled forces at the polls, as is their wont. Some of the visiting ladies looked askance at the solid front of blue coats in the foyer, but the St. Louis ladies explained that no election in St. Louis would look real without a flock of policemen hovering around.

The ticket had already been agreed upon except in one or two instances far down the list. The nominating committee held a five-hour session at the Woman's Club Monday night, and its report was the first order of business when the federation resumed its sessions Tuesday morning. The committee was headed by Mrs. Harry O. Kistler of Colorado, chairman, and Mrs. George Bacon of Massachusetts, secretary. It recommended the following as the new officers of the federation:

President, Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of Denver, Colo.

First vice-president, Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis.

Second vice-president, Mrs. May Alden Ward of Boston, Mass.

Recording secretary, Mrs. Mary Belle Sherman of Chicago.

Corresponding secretary, Miss Louisa Poppenheim of Charleston, S. C.

Treasurer, Mrs. Ann Pennypacker [illegible] Austin, Tex.

Auditor, Mrs. Dr. Sarah Evans of [illegible]ington.

Mrs. Denison, president of the fede[ration] presided. She was dressed in white [illegible] wore a black hat and yellow flowe[rs] [illegible] pronounced the selections of the [commit]tee a "magnificent ticket."

The report of the nominating com[mittee] was adopted.

Nominations from the floor were in or[der]. There were none for president, or for eith[er] vice-presidencies, but when the office of recording secretary was called, a lady aro[se] and nominated Mrs. William T. Coad [of] South Dakota, who is now serving her sec[ond] terms in the office. The nomina[tor] stated that Mrs. Coad's record books w[ere] "miracles," and urged that she be retai[ned] in the office. The nomination was [sec]onded, and the name of Mrs. Coad [was] placed upon the ticket.

The following nominations for dire[ctors] of the federation were made:

Mrs. Garvey of Kansas, Mrs. Law[illegible] Haynes of Florida, Mrs. Mary Lock[illegible] Mrs. J. Smith of Indiana, Mrs. A. C. [illegible] of Oklahoma.

New Silk Shirt-Waist Suits at $12.50

Actually Less Than Cost of Material.

Tomorrow morning we will place on sale a very large purchase of Silk Shirt-Waist Suits in the popular Raye stripes and line checks, Pointelle and Pointelle Raye Taffetas, on changeable grounds of Royal, Navy, Gray, Green and Dark Red. In view of the great demand and desirability of Shirt-Waist Suits for World's Fair wear, this sale comes at an opportune time and will be of widespread interest. The low price we are able to name is remarkable, considering the choiceness of the styles, the expensiveness of the material, and the thorough goodness of the making.

A Stylish Model—popular this season for its simplicity of outline and neatness of design. The waist is side-pleated back and front; the inverted side pleat on the skirt is a new feature; girdle and stock to match. All sizes will be represented at opening of the sale. This is unquestionably the greatest offering of the season—the silk alone is worth more than the sale price. In fact, $18.50 and $20.00 values for.....

Igorrote Tom-Tom Throbs Defiance to Scouts' Band, and War Is Imminent

THE STRIKE OF THE TOM-TOM BAND

War has been declared between the tom-tom of the Bontoc Igorrotes and the brass band of the Filipino scouts at the Philippine Village.

The trouble started at the top, among the general managers of the two contingents, and has spread to the lower strata. Tuesday the privates in the ranks were lined along their respective sides of the bamboo fence which separates them, making faces at each other, and "cussing" to the full limits of their languages.

The argument began when the Igorrotes got really warmed up to their particular stunt of living in St. Louis as they do at home. Judging from their representation of home life, the tom-tom is their chief household article. They begin on it as soon as the sun gets high, and keep at it until the last of them is too weary to pound and tired nature demands a rest.

The scouts have a real brass band, of which they are very proud. They use this band at their daily dress parade, which is held every afternoon at 6 o'clock. But Saturday, and again Monday, the diligent tom-tom, beaten busily on the other side of the bamboo fence, drowned the music of the band and even swallowed up the "hup-hup" of the officers giving orders in the drill.

Maj. William H. Johnson, commander of the scouts, shouted himself hoarse in the throat and red in the face trying to score one on the tom-toms. He failed to make himself heard. He made signs, and the scouts got through Mnoday evening's drill in some sort of shape. But as soon as it was over Maj. Johnson hied himself to his headquarters, took his pen in hand and wrote a letter.

Placing Band On Its Mettle.

This letter had crimped edges by the time Maj. Johnson dashed his signature at the bottom of it. It was addressed to E. A. Felder, executive commissioner of the Philippine exposition, and warned him that unless there was a reasonable intermission between tom-tom beats so that the scouts could hear their own band and go through their drill, he would take the matter up with President Francis, the entire Philippine commission, the president of the United States and the supreme court if necessary. If these failed to give him and his scouts relief, he declared he would abandon both the band concert and the dress parade drill.

Mr. Felder maintains a dignified silence, but Dr. Hunt, who has charge of the Igorrotes, declares the freedom of the tom-tom shall not be curtailed. He says the Igorrotes were brought over here to live as they live at home, and that they have the privilege, and in fact are in duty bound, to beat the tom-tom as much as they choose to do. If the scouts' band is not good enough to rise superior to the tom-tom it will have to succumb.

There the matter rests for the present as far as the officers are concerned. But the uniformed scouts and uniformless Igorrotes spend their spare time at the bamboo fence, telling each other what they think of the situation and the rival musical instruments.

The situation has become so critical that it has succeeded as a subject for discussion the threatened strike of the Bontocs Monday afternoon because of a mix-up between the Bontocs and the Suyocs as a result of a dispute over these very same tom-toms, or ganzas, as they are sometimes called in company.

Whose Tom-tom Was One Taken?

Since the two tribes of Igorottes have been in their village their stock of ganzas has been held in common. Theoretically, they belonged to both tribes, but in practice the Bontocs kept them by virtue of superior numbers and traditional propensity for browbeating their Suyoc brethren.

Whenever there was a dance the Bontocs would get the ganzas first and the Suyocs had to wait until the Bontocs were through with them.

Monday, with the houses of both villages completed, it was decided to separate the tribes. The Suyocs managed to get hold of one ganza, but the Bontocs would not give them any more until C. A. Pettit, in charge of the Supocs, took it up with Dr. Hunt, in charge of the Bontocs, when the Suyocs were told to go over to the Bontoc village and get two more ganzas, all they need in their dances, and the Bontocs were warned not to interfere with them.

The Suyocs took a big ganza and a little one. As soon as they had gone the Bontocs took stock, and there was a howl. Chief Antonio of the Bontocs said they had taken a ganza which was his personal property and there would be no more Bontoc dances until it was returned to him.

A council of war was held and Antero, the boy who can speak English, was elected walking delegate. Backed up by a committee and Chief Antonio, Antero went up to the porch of the headquarters and submitted an ultimatum.

Antero was chief spokesman, but all the others took a hand at the "bad talk" at times, and a mix-up was averted only by the exercise of the greatest diplomacy on the part of Mr. Pettit.

It was finally established to the satisfaction of Mr. Pettit that the ganza was really the private property of Antonio, and on his advice the Suyocs agreed to exchange it for another as good.

"On with the dance," shouted Antonio. The tom-toms throbbed and the strike was over.

SHOTS FLY, HUSBAND UNHURT

Mrs. Julia Sullivan Blazed Away, but Michael Sulivan Stood His Ground Manfully.

Mrs. Julia Sullivan shows remarkable ability in not hitting what she shoots at.

Mrs. Sullivan and her husband, Mr. Michael Sullivan, have their domicile at 636 South Broadway. Monday evening there was an argument between them over the question whether the World's Fair cascades were what the were "cracked up" to be, and the argument soon shunted to the track of a quarrel.

Then Mrs. Sullivan began to shoot. She fired four shots from a revolver at her husband, and broke enough other things to start an old iron shop. But Mr. Sullivan came out of the fusilade unscathed.

Mrs. Sullivan was locked up. The police wanted to charge her with assault with intent to kill; but as the evidence was all to the effect that she assaulted only inanimate objects, which could not be killed, the charge against her is discharging firearms within the city limits.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH BANQUET.

W. Daviess Pittman Will Preside as Toastmaster.

The banquet of the Christian churches of the city will be given Tuesday night in the Christian Endeavor Hotel. The program for this evening has been especially arranged with the view of stimulating interest in the national convention of the Christian church to be held in the Coliseum in October.

W. Daviess Pittman will preside this evening as toastmaster, and will make the opening address. After a solo by Mrs. H. H. Halloway, the Rev. Dr. J. H. Garrison will deliver an address on "The Tie that Binds." The hymn, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," will then be sung. W. H. McLain will speak on "The National Convention of the Disciples of Christ," after which the Rev. J. M. Philputt, the new pastor of the Union Avenue Christian church, will speak on "First Impressions." A piano and violin duet will be given by the Misses Calvin, and Mrs. Philputt will give a vocal solo. Breckenridge Jones will close the program with an address.

BETTER TRACK AT DELMAR TUESDAY

Only Two Scratches, Neither of Which Affects the Form of the Races.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DELMAR RACETRACK, May 24.—Beautiful weather and the prospect of excellent sport brought another large crowd to Delmar this afternoon.

The track was considerably improved over yesterday, despite last night's shower, and there were only two scratches—George W. Dasch in the second and Laurel L. in the fifth. Neither withdrawal tended to upset form.

Erbe and M. F. Tarpey Withdrawn From the ontest for the Purse in the Fourth Race.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

UNION JOCKEY CLUB, May 24.—Clear skies and a good card brought an exceptionally large crowd to the track today.

The betting was brisk on all the events.

Erbe and M. F. Tarpey were withdrawn from the feature rase, leaving only The Messenger, W. B. Gates and Setauket to compete. Accolade, in the opening race was the only other withdrawal.

The track was in better condition than was expected, and the strict "mudlarks" did not have their anticipated monopoly of the advantage in the going.

JEWELL A WITNESS IN HIS OWN BEHALF

Denies He Solicited a Bribe of $9000 for Passing Baking Powder Bill.

SAYS MONEY WAS OFFERED

But Declares He Fled in Disgust When Alleged Attempt to Buy His Vote Was Made.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 24.—The trial of Senator Jesse L. Jewell, for soliciting a bribe as a member of the last general assembly, was of interest this morning because of the testimony of Senator Jewell in his own defence.

Senator Jewell denied that he had asked a bribe of J. W. Hess, the alum baking company's representative, and stated that Hess had offered him $7,500 for two votes besides his own, Hess to keep the remaining $1,500 of the $9,000. When this bribe was offered Jewell said he immediately left the presence of the briber and never saw him again.

Senator Jewell was called to the witness stand at 11 o'clock.

"Prior to Jan. 31, 1903, had you ever seen John W. Hess?" he was asked.

"No."

"Did you see Hess July 31?"

"Yes, at Cal Morton's saloon at about 11 o'clock. Phippe, the grocer, introduced us. In 15 minutes I returned to office. Phippe explained that Hess was agent of the alum baking powder people. Hess explained that alum was not injurious in baking powder. He asked for another interview. I told him I would meet him at the Coates House at noon. McFarland and Hilligardner were there with Hess. We went to a barroom, where a drink or two was ordered. We discussed alum baking powder. We must have been there 20 or 30 minutes. We separated.

"Later in the afternoon I met Hess at Cal Morton's. During our talk in hte wineroom McFarland, Hilligardner and Phipps dropped in. Finally, when we were alone, Hess asked if there was any pressure that could be brought to bear to get me to vote for the repeal of the baking powder bill. I told him that I thought alum was injurious. I told him to get the names of representative citibens to recommend the repeal and I would reconsider the matter. I gave him some names. I knew he could not get them because I felt they would not recommend a poison.

"Then Hess said that the alum people had as much money as the other people. He said that they would give $9000, he to keep $1500 and the remaining $7500 to go for my vote and two others. When he said that I got up immediately and left him.

"I did not see him again. I never said a word about his coming to Jefferson City and registering at the Monroe House under the name of McCreary. It's silly on the face of it."

"Did you ever say a word about your wanting a bribe?"

"Never."

Attorney-General Crow then cross-examined him.

"You had confidence in the names you gave Hess?

"Yes."

"Then you gave him the list just to get rid of him?"

"Yes."

"Then you saw Hess and Hillgardner at the Coates House and you talked of the alum law?"

"They talked to me. I may have talked some."

"You saw Hess later?"

"Yes; he called me up and made the appointment."

"Then Hess offered you $9000 for three votes?"

"No, sir. It was $7500. He wanted to keep $1500."

"Have you talked to Hess since?"

"I should hope not."

Charles E. Jaques, a baking powder manufacturer of Chicago, was next called. He testified that he had received this telegram from Hess:

"Jan. 31, 1904—C. E. Jaques, 107 Maple avenue, Oak Park, Ill.—If you have enough votes, all right. If not, it will take $9000 to get every sure. Mr. J. and his friends. Answer me at once if to drop this or not. Waiting at Baltimore Hotel. Am holding him in Kansas City tonight.—J. W. Hess."

Coal Miner for the Senate.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CARBONDALE, Ill., May 24.—The Democratic senatorial convention of the Forty-fourth district, which includes the counties of Perry, Randolph, Washington, Monroe and Jackson, convened in the opera house in this city today. A contesting delegation from Jackson, was the only feature that marred the harmony of the convention. The nominee for state senator will be David Huggins, of Murphysboro, who has no opposition and, for representative, Charles D. Luke, of Nashville, an attorney and P. M. Cummins of Sparta, a blacksmith. All the nominees are strong labor supporters. Mr. Huggins, the senatorial nominee, is a coal miner.

PORT ARTHUR IS SAFE UNTIL KINCHOW FALLS

Japanese Must Get the Russian Stronghold at the Narrow Neck of the Peninsula Before Naval Base Can Be Closely Invested.

28,000 MEN ARE SAID TO BE IN THE CITY'S GARRISON

Russians Are Stubbornly Resisting Every Movement of the Besieging Army and Mikado's Forces Are Finding Execution of Plans Difficult.

From a Special Correspondent of the New York World, Post-Dispatch and London Daily Mail.

(Copyright, 1904, by Press Publishing Co.)

YINKOW, May 24.—Recent changes in the Japanese plans are due to their endeavor to take Dalny this week.

The present position of affairs is as follows:

The Japanese first army has fallen back and is entrenching at Feng Wang Cheng. Gen. Mistchenko, with 4000 Cossacks, is keeping in touch with the advanced outposts of the Japanese cavalry in the west. The headquarters of Mistchenko's force is at Motien Pass.

The Japanese second army is advancing slowly south from Pitsewo and Port Adams for a combined attack by land and sea on Kinchow. It will be necessary to take this position on the neck of land that connects Kwantung peninsula with the rest of the peninsula before Port Arthur can be invested closely.

To this, Gen. Fock will offer most determined resistance, aided by the garrisons from Dalny, Tallenwan and Kinchow, which are falling back southward as necessity compels.

The Japanese third army is mobilizing at Hiroshima.

Part of the Japanese fleet is outside Port Arthur and part is in Tallenwan bay. A Japanese squadron bombarded the Russian earthworks at Kaichow bay, afterward landed a naval brigade and then re-embarked. These ships are now at Port Adams bay, co-operating with the Tallenwan bay squadron.

They are preparing for flank attacks on the Kinchow Neck of land when the second army is ready for the frontal attack.

No advance has been made yet by the Japanese on New Chwang or Taschichiao. All is quiet here. A small garrison is ready to evacuate the town when the Japanese advance in strength. This is not considered probable until Port Arthur is regularly besieged. Gen. Stoessel has 20,000 men at Port Arthur and so, with Gen. Focks' force of 8,000, the garrison numbers 28,000.

The Japanese have destroyed many miles of railway and telegraph. The Russians themselves have destroyed the railway and telegraph between Kaichow and Taschichiao.

All reports of further fighting at Wafugtian and Haicheng are false.

Since the Russian disaster at the Yalu river, an inquiry has been going on into the conduct of Brig. Gen. Trousoff. He has been censured. Fault was found with him for not retiring the artillery and the eleventh regiment according to his orders. His failure to obey them caused the heavy losses the Russians suffered.

EPISCOPAL DIOCESE MEETS

Sixty-Fifth Annual Convention Opens in Christ Church Cathedral.

Services at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in Christ Church Cathedral opened the sixty-fifth annual convention of the episcopal diocese of Missouri. The sermon was delivered by Dr. J. R. Winchester and the delegates received holy communion.

Bishop D. S. Tuttle is on the program for an annual address in Schuyler house Tuesday afternoon and in the evening a missionary meeting will be held at the Church of the Holy Communion. Bishop Kinsolving of Brasil will be the speaker.

The convention will continue through Wednesday and Thursday. The bishop's annual reception will take place Wednesday evening at his home in Vandeventer place. The annual meeting of St. Luke's Hospital Association will be held Thursday evening in the new building. The woman's auxiliary meets Friday and Sunday afternoon the children of the diocese celebrate the annual "missionary host."

Executive Commissioners' Association Presents Two Grievances.

The grievances of the World's Fair executive commissioners' association promises to bear fruit shortly. The grievance committee held a three hours' session yesterday afternoon and the entire executive commissioners' association will meet tomorrow to consider two grievances.

1. That the Exposition management has failed to provide sidewalks between state buildings and that visitors must wade mud if mud there be.

2. That, though the Exposition's transportation and general service department is at fault by delaying the arrival of and in some cases causing the ruin of exhibits, the Exposition is crowding state exhibitors and calling them to account for being behindhand with installation of their exhibits.

King May Not Race Yacht.

LONDON, May 24.—The regatta committee of the Royal Yacht Squadron on Sunday received a formal challenge from Commodore Morton F. Plant of the Larchmont Yacht Club for the Cape May cup with the schooner-yacht Ingomar. It would be ridiculous, it is thought, to sail King Edward's yacht, the Britannia, especially with the present cut-down rig against a fast schooner of the Ingomar type and says it is by no means certain that the King will defend the cup with the Britannia.

The Gittins defeated the Footwins by the score of 4 to 2 and the Jordans 4 to 3. For games with the Gittins address Gittins Club, 2867 Manchester avenue.

ORRINE A Scientific Cure for DRUNKENNESS

ABSOLUTELY SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS,

Will Cure Forever the Craving for

Whiskey, Beer or Wine.

ORRINE will restore any drunkard to manhood and health.
A simple home treatment—can be given secretly if desired.

CURE EFFECTED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Mothers, wives and sisters, you cannot cure those who are afflicted with this most terrible of all diseases by your fervent prayers or eyes red with tears, nor by your hope that they may stop drinking. It can be done only with ORRINE. You have the remedy—will you use it? If you desire to cure without the knowledge of the patient, buy ORRINE No. 1; if the patient desires to be cured of his own free will, buy ORRINE No. 2. Full directions in each package.

PRICE $1 PER BOX.

No Sanitarium Treatment or Publicity! No Absence from Home or Loss of Time!

Ask your druggist whom you know what he thinks of ORRINE; he will indorse our statements as truthful in every respect. If ORRINE fails to cure we will refund you every penny paid for it as cheerfully as we took it.

CHARGES AGAINST BANKERS.

Officials Allege They Received Deposits After Failure Was Known.

ENID, O. T., May 24.—H. H. Watkins, cashier, and W. H. Dugan, assistant cashier of the defunct Citizens' Bank of this city, were arrested last night on warrants issued by County Attorney Sturges on charge of receiving money for deposit in the bank when they knew that the institution was in a failing condition.

The wrecked bank is in the hands of a receiver and no statement of the bank's condition has been given to the public. Attempts to reorganize have failed, it being estimated that it will require $200,000 to put the bank into business again.

DESPERATELY ILL WITH KIDNEY CATARRH

DOCTORS AND FRIENDS DESPAIRED— PE-RU-NA SAVED HIM.

MR. GEORGE KING.

Only recent medical investigation has revealed the fact tha catarrh is responsible for most of the diseases of the kidneys.

Many people don't get well because they fail to use the catarrh cure Peruna.

MR. GEORGE KING, Deputy Sheriff of Rensellaer Co., N. Y., for years was a well-known merchant of Troy. In a letter from No. 45 King St., Troy, N. Y., he writes:

"Peruna cured me from what the doctors were afraid would turn into Bright's Disease, after I had suffered with catarrh of the bladder and kidney trouble.

"Peruna is a blessing to a sick man. Eight bottles made me a well man and were worth more than a thousand dollars to me. I cannot speak too highly of it. It is now four years since I was troubled, and I have enjoyed perfect health ever since."—George King.

Catarrh of the Kidneys Cured by Pe-ru-na.

Mr. J. G. Martin, 1229 St. Denis St., Montreal, Que., Clerk in the Custom House, and Soloist Notre Dame Catholic Church, writes:

"I contracted a heavy cold last winter which settled in my kidneys, causing me great pain and discomfort. At times the pains in my back were unbearable. I would have a peculiar dizziness in the head, and altogether I was miserable. After trying many remedies, I finally took Peruna, and the way it took hold of my trouble was marvelous. It cured me so quickly that I am glad to be able to write you of it, and I certainly will speak a good word for Peruna whenever I can."—J. G. Martin.

Catarrhal inflammation of the mucous lining of the kidneys, also called "Bright's disease," may be either acute or chronic. The acute form produces symptoms of such prominence that the serious nature of the disease is at once suspected, but the chronic variety may come on so gradually and insidiously that its presence is not suspected until after it has fastened itself thoroughly upon its victim.

At the appearance of the first symptom Peruna should be taken. This remedy strikes at once at the very root of the disease.

WANTED OFFICIAL FIGURES CHANGED

"Please Help a Pore Man," Wrote a Guessing Contest Participant to Mr. Stevens.

"PLEASE JUST FOR THIS TIME"

Simple West Virginian Promised to Never Forget "Mr. Walter" So Long as He Lived.

Packed snugly away among the Exposition "curio" letters is the following communication from a "pore man" in West Virginia, asking Secretary Stevens to change the official count of the opening day's attendance to help him win a prize from a newspaper in his vicinity that conducted a "guessing contest." The letter did not arrive until after the official figures had been announced, so action on Mr Stevens' part was impossible. The letter is as follows:

"Please read this careful.

"Julia, Greenbrier County, W. Va., May 16, 1904.

"Mr. Walter B. Stevens,

"My Dear Sir:

"I have a guess on the nomber of people that will attend the Fair on the 30 day of April. My guess is with the Inquirer and the capital prise is 5000.00 dollars and I would like to have that prise as I am a very pore man and that little prise would help me to a nice little home. Now Mr. Walter would it be asking two mutch of you to help me just a little in this little matter. My guess is 187,747 and I see in other papers that there were 187,792 people thare on that day. Now Mr. Walter would it be asking two mutch of you to drop that figure to my guess, 187,747 and let it rest there, for this time and that will help one pore man out of the dytch. I have worked hard all my life and have tried to be honest and as you will not be out of no money and as the Weekly Enquirer proposes to give this 10,000.00 to there subscribers, I don't think there would be any harme for you to help me just a little this time and I will not forget you as long as I live. Now Mr. Stevens as I am a very pore man an have bin a cripple all my life with the whiteswelling and am not able to do mutch work in the way of farming witch is all the way I have to make my living. Now if you can help me just this time.

"I will say to you that if the time ever comes when you need some help, if it is in my power to help you, I certainly will dow everything that is in my power for you. Please just for this time, will you help me out. It will not cost you nothing and it will help me to secure a nice little home where I may spend my days I hope a better and happier man. Well, I will close for this time hoping that when I hear from you it will be favorable.

Yours truly, B. F. H.

"Please don't forget my guess is 187,747.

"Help a pore man just for once in your life."

CHILD KILLED BY FALLING BEER KEG

Cask Accidentally Rolled From Second-Story Window Struck Little Rose Calcaterra.

Rose Calcaterra, 7 years old, was killed Monday afternoon by a beer keg which fell from a second-story window at Cooper and Shaw avenues. Her skull was fractured in two places, and she died two hours after being struck.

Angelo Puricealli, bartender at the North American Italian Club, from whose rooms the beer keg was rolled, is a prisoner at the Mounted District police station, pending the decision of the corner's jury as to his responsibility for the accident. The little girl's father said Tuesday that they held him guiltless.

The second floor of the building is occupied by the North American Italian Club. It has seven windows facing on Shaw avenue, and level with the floor.

Monday afternoon Rose, whose home was a few doors away, at 1914 Cooper avenue, and several playmates were in Shaw avenue playing. Rose was under a window of the club room.

Puricealli, at work upstairs, did not know she was there. In straightening things around, he caught an empty beer keg which he wanted to put out of the way. It was standing on end, and he gave it a whirl to send it to a corner of the building.

Instead of going to the corner as intended, the keg wobbled, fell on its side, and rolled straight toward the open window, beneath which Rose was standing.

Puricealli started after it, calling out a warning to anyone who might be in the street. He failed to catch the keg, and his warning was not heard. As he reached the window he heard the falling keg strike the little girl, and saw her fall, while the keg rolled into the gutter.

WICHMANN IS EXONERATED

Coroner's Jury Decides the Killing of Charles Manley at Valley Park Was in Self-Defense.

Eurig Wichmann, who shot and instantly killed Charles M. Manley in the former's saloon in Valley Park, as reported exclusively in Monday's Post-Dispatch, was exonerated by the coroner's jury, which held an inquest Monday afternoon. The shooting was held to have been in self defense.

The investigation by the coroner brought out the evidence that the killing was the result of a quarrel with Robert Manley, a brother of the man, who was killed. There were a number of foreigners in the saloon and a quarrel started. Robert Manley was ejected but returned later and attempted to renew the quarrel. It is said he was assisted by his brother, Charles. While the trouble was at its height, it is said, Charles Manley drew a knife and attempted to strike Wichmann, who was trying to restore order. Wichmann then fired, the bullet striking Charles Manley in the heart.

BABY BITTEN BY BULL DOG

Little Frank Dominick's Cheek Lacerated Before His Mother Could Rescue Him.

Frank Dominick, 18 months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dominick, 426 South Garrison avenue has three deep wounds in his left cheek inflicted by a bulldog belonging to John Conley, 424 South Garrison avenue.

Frank and his little sister, Loretta, aged 8, were playing near the kennel in which Conley's bulldog is kept, Monday evening. The kennel is in the yard next to their home. Mrs. Dominick heard Frank's screams and running out saw the bulldog standing over him.

The lower teeth and one upper tooth had penetrated the baby's cheek narrowly missing his eye. Conley refused to allow the police to kill the dog, which has been in the neighborhood several years and has never had the reputation of being vicious.

SKIN AND BLOOD PURIFICATION

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills

Cleanse the Skin, Scalp and Blood

Of Torturing, Disfiguring, Humours with Loss of Hair

COMPLETE TREATMENT $1.00

Thousands of the world's best people have found instant relief and speedy cure by the use of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills in the most torturing and disfiguring of itching, burning and scaly humours, eczemas, rashes, itchings and inflammations.

Thousands of tired, fretted mothers, of skin-tortured and disfigured babies, of all ages and conditions, have certified to almost miraculous cures by the Cuticura remedies, when the best medical skill had failed to relieve, much less cure.

Cuticura Treatment is local and constitutional — complete and perfect, pure, sweet and wholesome. Bathe the affected surfaces with Cuticura Soap and hot water to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle, dry without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and lastly take Cuticura Resolvent Pills to cool and cleanse the blood, and put every function in a state of healthy activity. More great cures of simple, scrofulous and hereditary humours are daily made by Cuticura remedies than by all other blood and skin remedies combined, a single set being often sufficient to cure the most distressing cases when all else fails.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Resolvent, 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60), Ointment, 50c., Soap, 25c. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug and Chem. Corp., Sole Props. Send for "Skin and Blood Purification."

Sweet Stomach comes only by having a perfect active liver and good digestion. BEECHAM'S PILLS will do the work. Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c and 25c.

C-N and Its Mission.

A Regular Watch Dog Against Disease.

C-N is, first of all, a disinfectant.

But it is totally unlike any other disinfectant. It isn't alone that it's superior in power and effectiveness, but it's a household disinfectant, prepared especially for household use. It isn't poison. It doesn't hurt the finest woodwork or fabrics. It has no unpleasant odor. It isn't expensive, and it does really and positively kill germs—any sort of germs.

Mix it with the water for cleaning, mopping and scrubbing. Sprinkle a little in the corners, use it to flush the sinks and drain pipes, and, in short, make C-N a household habit.

When there is illness in the house it is a good plan to put some C-N in a saucer and let it stand in the sick room. It absorbs all the impurities in the air and keeps the room sweet, fresh and free from odors.

Get C-N from any dealer.

Miss Rose Peterson, Secretary Parkdale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally. Another woman,

Miss Hannah E. Mershon, Collingswood, N.J., says:

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything. Menstruation was irregular.

"I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and began to feel better right away. I continued its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me."

—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure any woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, and kidney troubles.

Audacious Fritzi Scheff Is Itzi

I do not know if Fritzi Scheff
Cares aught for our salaams,
Or if her dainty ear is deaf
To plaudits all Madame's;
But surely if, admiring her,
We're all agreed, fair Fritzi
Will not be angry though we were
To cheer a little bitzi.

I do not know if Fritzi's voice
Fills all the birds with woe,
Or if it makes them to rejoice
That Fritzi mocks them so;
But I am sure its limpid sweets,
(She's like a lark, is Fritzi)
Can beat the band at filling seats—
Madame, you see, is itzi.

I know this is literally singing the praises of Fritzi Scheff and "Babette," but I am in a singing mood. Alas, were I a sweet singer in Israel, I would make the high Horeb of art ring until it seemed that the Holy Land had fallen into the hands of German crusaders marching with harps.

Miss Scheff made her first St. Louis appearance at the Olympic last night. She vitalized the comic opera "Babette." I had seen it a week ago, but the half of its beauties were hid in the absence of the electric little Viennese who returned to the cast last night and became its dynamo and illuminant.

Miss Scheff had been ill—throat trouble, we heard. It was hard to believe it last night. She skipped on the stage, the personification of all that is physically perfect. She sang, and if there had been aught wrong with her voice it had been fixed and perfectly fixed.

The audience that greeted the madame was a pretty compliment enough. Yesterday was a warm day, and last night was a hot night. But when the curtain rose upon the harbor at Antwerp at the Olympic last night there was a fine audience, all but filling the house.

The people wanted to see Fritzi Scheff, just to know if she does justice to her name and to ascertain if she is as good as her fame. It would have taken something more potent than hot weather to have kept the people away from the Olympic last night—and I venture to say the Filipino scouts couldn't keep them out of the Olympic the nights remaining in this week.

Why?

Because "Babette," with Fritzi Scheff in the cast, is the best light musical entertainment seen in St. Louis this season. I think it is the best I have ever seen—the best because of the piquant personality of its star—who is a real star, scintillant, twinkling and all that; because of the prettiness of its music; because of the excellence of its comedy and the rare, very rare, ability of comedian, Louis Harrison; and because of its good chorus, its pretty staging and bright sartorial beauty.

The Baroness von Bardeleben, who is known upon the stage as Fritzi Scheff, is a star of exceptional magnitude for comic opera. Lacking some of the moving qualities of the voice of Grace Van Studdiford, the finest singer comic opera has brought to us in the season until now, Miss Scheff's voice has more sweetness and is more musical. Along in the middle register it is beautiful, indeed, and it shows grand opera quality pretty much all the time. To hear her sing the waltz song, "Where the Fairest Flowers Are Blooming," is a treat worth some considerable sacrifice.

Miss Scheff has a fine audacity in her manner well suited to the part of the role she plays. She has less fire than we expected, perhaps, but she is a charming little lady with a plumpness of figure and an excellence of embonpoint, to say nothing of the flash in her eyes and the witchery of her pretty mouth.

THE ONLY ONE OF HIS KIND

It is always interesting to see the only one of his kind—no matter what the kind is.

Jimmie Russell is the only one of his kind. Jimmy's kind is an Irish servant girl, and he is over at the Columbia theatre this week. This is the last week of the Columbia season, and it is the second time the Russell Brothers have headed a bill over there. There are performers of more or less merit ahead of them, and, finally, the voice of Jimmy chirps out of the wings. There is an immediate rustle of amusement in the audience, for the people know that voice. There is none other like it.

John Russell, Miss Annie Russell and John Russell, Jr., assist Jimmy in the presentation of "A Romance of New Jersey." If one likes the Russell brand of fun, and there are many who do, the sketch is just as funny now as it ever was.

Ed Garvey and Mollie Thompson, who were here some time ago in "Mr. Jolly of Joliet," are on the bill. They are giving a sketch entitled, "Wanted—A Partner." It would better have been, "Wanted—A Sketch." Phil and Nellie Peters are there. Nellie Peters is still making up for the shortcomings of Phil—philling in, as it were. She is a very animated woman, and she keeps the sketch glowing nicely sometimes when but for her elivening personality, it would grow very cold on Phillip's hands.

Harriet Avery Strakosch, operatic soprano, is also on the bill. She is very pleasing, and is encored with spirit. Others on the bill are the Carter and Waters Company in "The Wise Mr. Coon," George Thatcher, minstrel; Joe J. Sullivan and Constance Sheldon in "The Coal Man," and Pierce and Maize, singers and dancers.

European Breakfasts.

Mark Twain, in speaking of the typical European breakfasts, said, "Do you know what I'll do? I'll nail a piece of cuttle-fish bone to the chimney, and every morning I'll hop up on the mantel and take a pick at it with a tin bill. It will be just as filling and much cheaper than a European breakfast."

It is evident that Mr. Clemens prefers the typical American breakfast dish of Pillsbury's Vitos with good cream and sugar.

Illinois Militia Transfers.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 24.—Upon the recommendation of the commanding generals, First Lieutenant George M. Pittenger, aid-de-camp on the Second Brigade staff, is transferred to the Fourth Brigade, and First Lieutenant Charles B. Rose, aid-de-camp on the Fourth Brigade staff, is transferred to the Second Brigade. First Lieutenant Kenneth R. Walker and Second Lieutenant Earl W. Eaton of Company D, Fourth Infantry, are ordered to report to the regimental examining board at Effingham on Thursday, June 16. An election for second lieutenant in Company B, Seventh Infantry, is ordered to be held Thursday, June 2.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup reduces inflammation while children are teething.

Bright's Disease

Caused the death of Doctor Bright. Bright's Disease is simply slow congestion of the Kidneys. In the last stage the congestion becomes acute and the victim lives a few hours or a few days, but is past saving. This insidious Kidney trouble is caused by sluggish, torpid, congested liver and slow, constipated bowels, whereby the kidneys are involved and ruined. Drake's Palmetto Wine is a foe to congestion of Liver, Kidneys and tissues. It promptly relieves the congestion and carries it out of the Liver, Kidneys, tissues and blood. Drake's Palmetto Wine restores the mucous membranes to healthy condition, relieves the membranes throughout the body from inflammation and Catarrh and cures Catarrh. Constipation and Liver and Kidney disease to stay cured. It gives relief immediately, builds up vigor and health, prolongs life and makes it enjoyable. A trial bottle always gives relief and often cures. A trial bottle will be sent to every reader of this paper who will write for it to Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill. A postal card will bring this wonderful tonic Palmetto medicine to you absolutely free. It is a boon to disease-ladened, pain-ridden men and women.

For Sale by Haboteau & Co., 700 N. B'way.

BROUGHT $1200 HOME WITH A SILVER DOLLAR.

"Twelve hundred dollars did you say? All right, give me the change in bills," said John Edwards in the real estate office of J. M. Chamberlain, Jr., in East St. Louis Monday, at the same time laying down a silver dollar in payment for a house and lot which he had just purchased.

emhdleadflBrlul emfwyp sbrdlu emfwypat

"How much change did you want?" gasped the agent.

"Fifty dollars," answered Edwards.

"Isn't there a mistake somewhere?"

"Not at all," said Edwards. "The property you sold me is worth $1200. This silver dollar will sell for $1250 anywhere and some numismatists would consider it a bargain at that."

"I'll hold the deed while you go cash it," suggested the agent.

Edwards agreed. Two hours later he returned from St. Louis with ordinary currency with which he redeemed his purchase.

eaple Unanimous in Their Praise of the German-American Doctors, Located at 800 Olive St.

These specialists have rescued hundreds of women, as well as men, from the operating table. They have demonstrated beyond the question of a doubt that surgical operations are not necessary in one case in a thousand where they are performed. Ladies, do not permit incompetent and unscrupulous doctors to maim and unsex you —at least, until after you have consulted the German-American Doctors. The following people were cured after having suffered for years, and been repeatedly informed that nothing short of surgical procedure would save their lives:

"No. 1927-2 Morgan street, St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 27th, 1903.—Dear Doctors: Replying to your valued favor, I am pleased to state that in my case your treatment has proven more than satisfactory. I suffered from Rupture for forty years, and you have cured me. Respectfully, Michael Weller."

"No. 1901 Indiana avenue, Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 1, 1904.—Gentlemen: I desire to express my opinion of the skillful manner in which you handled my case. I suffered from Eczema in one of its worst forms for a number of years. One of my limbs was affected so that I could scarcely walk, and I suffered the tortures of Hades most of the time. Several physicians said if the sores were healed I would die, and that a surgical operation was the only thing that would save my life. Two years ago I took a three months' course of treatment from you, and have been entirely well ever since. Yours truly, Mrs. J. J. Croy."

The German-American Doctors have thousands of testimonials, all of same tenor as the above, which can be seen at their offices free for the asking, in the original envelopes, just as they were received from the writers. If you are suffering from any Chronic or Special Diseases, investigate, and bear in mind that the German-American Doctors employ a Staff of Specialists, each devoting his entire time to the treatment of certain classes of disease. Please observe that the German-American Doctors do not dwell upon what they CAN do, but, instead, give you the names of people whom they have CURED. Remember, their offer is to treat you absolutely free of charge (medicines excepted), and they mean just what they say. Office hours, 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Sundays and holidays, 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. Special hours for ladies, 2 to 4 p. m. Special hours for men, 7 to 8 p. m. If unable to call, write. Home treatment cures. Remember the name and address. MAN BATTLES FOR LIFE IN MISSISSIPPI

Falling From the Wharf, James Fields Found Himself Cramped Between Moored Boats and in the Grasp of a Strong Under-Current.

ROPE THROWN TO HIM AFTER AN EXHAUSTING STRUGGLE

Visitor From Arkansas Had Gone Down to the River in Search of a Friend of Former Days on Lower Mississippi.

James Fields, 56 years old, and, as he admits, long out of swimming practice, swam for one hundred yards between wharfboats and steamers at the foot of Clark avenue Monday night and made his way to shore. He is at the City Hospital, little the worse for his struggle in the chilly water.

Fields is an old river man. His home is now at Camden, Ark. Twenty years ago he was captain on a ferry boat plying between Natchez, Miss., and Vidalia, La. Sunday he came to St. Louis to see the World's Fair and to renew the acquaintance of old friends.

One of these friends was Barney Kairns, whom Fields used to know down on the lower river. Fields did not know where Kairns could be found, but thought the best chance to locate him was on the river front. So he began a tour of the wharf.

He reached the foot of Clark street, still looking for his old friend, and went on board a wharfboat there. Kairns was not on the first boat, and Fields started to pass to another, tied alongside.

There was a distance of about two feet between the boats, and in stepping from one to the other Fields missed his footing, fell, and dropped into the water between the boats.

At the water line there was barely enough space for him to work his arms, and nothing at all for him to catch and hold to. The water was cold, and the undertow was so strong that it required all the swimmer's skill, cramped as he was, to save himself from being sucked under one of the boats.

He struggled gamely, however, and worked his way to the rear of the boats. Then he turned toward shore, finding himself with more room, but still between boats and in the grasp of the undertow.

He was becoming exhausted, and his watersoaked garments were aiding the current in handicapping him; but as he struggled his old tricks of swimming came to his aid and he made steady gains in his fight against the water.

He saw the shore drawing closer and closer, and finally he felt that he could reach bottom with his feet.

He tried it, but went under. When he came to the surface again he had lost some of the ground he had gained, and had to fight the battle over again. But a moment later help came to him, and just as he reached shallow water Philip Schwable and Valentine Sanders threw him a rope and dragged him to shore.

"It has been so long since I took a swim in the Mississippi," said Fields Tuesday, "that I thought I had forgotten how it was done. But I guess I still know a little about it. I don't think I'll try it again under the same circumstances, though, and with the water as cold as it is now."

MINISTERS PLAN TO CENSOR PIKE

Members of the M. E. South Association Appoint a Committee of Inspection.

To find if naught is naughty or not what it ought to be, a committee composed of four members of the M. E. Church, South, Ministerial Association will visit the Pike at the World's Fair and report to the other members at the regular meeting.

The decision to learn by seeing was reached at a meeting of the association held Monday.

So unanimous were the ministers in supporting the suggestion made by Rev. Dr. J. W. Lee that for a time it looked as if it would be a committee of the whole, but it finally narrowed down to the decision that Dr. Lee, as originator of the idea, ought to be one member, Presiding Elder Sharp another, and Rev. Drs. McMurry and Bradfield the remaining two.

So interested did the ministers become in their selection of the committee that they neglected to specify what the delegation ought to class as naughty; what depraved, but interesting; and what measurably instructive by merit of contrast.

In accepting a place on the committee Dr. McMurry said he would serve if allowed to make the first investigation of the places visited and be allowed to report to the other members whether or not they should investigate also. The point was left undecided.

The ministers also decided at their Monday meeting to hold their weekly sessions hereafter in the Temple of Fraternity at the World's Fair.

MISS GOULD OFF FOR HOME.

Leaves With Her Party of Friends to Be Absent Until September.

Her second visit since the opening of the World's Fair, April 30, was terminated Tuesday by Miss Helen Gould, who left for New York in her private car with a party of seven friends who have been staying with her at the Buckingham Club.

It is not expected that Miss Gould will return to St. Louis until September. The party will go direct to New York.

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCES

STRENGTH OF YESTERDAY NOT APPARENT TODAY

Too Much Bearish Talk and a Lack of a Good Ring to the Buying Disheartened Those Who Put Prices Up Yesterday.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The market opened this morning with a fair volume of business, but with prices generally lower than the close last night. London, after its holiday, came lower on almost all of our stocks, but had a few buying orders on the market here.

Railway reports continue to show decreases in net and gross earnings and the outlook from that standpoint is not favorable, but the crop reports are better now than for some time. The lake strike continues to hamper general business but is helping the railroads by giving them increased tonnage, though it is not of a generally high rate traffic.

There was some increase in commission business, but it is still a very small factor in the market.

Trading during the first half hour was light and prices showed a generally lower tendency.

The downward tendency continued up to the noon hour and affected almost the entire list. The short interest continues very large and is seemingly very little reduced.

The inability of the assay office to furnish sufficient gold bars to fill the demand for export has caused the postponement of the shipment which was to go today until Thursday.

The banks are good gainers in their subtreasury operations, having gained 7,441,000 since last Friday.

Officials of Brooklyn Rapid Transit are authority for the statement that last Sunday was the heaviest day's business in the entire history of the company.

There was no rally as the session neared the close and trading dragged itself along in an aimless manner. The last prices showed no strength to the market and were at about the low point of the day.

The sales to noon were of fair volume, as the market is at present, aggregating 134,900 shares. Money on call ranged from 1½ to 1¾, with most of the loans being at the higher figure.

In spite of the good reports concerning Brooklyn Rapid Transit the stock was heavy and sold off during the day.

The opening prices and changes were as follows: Copper 50⅞, unchanged; Atchison 65⅝, decline ⅛; Baltimore & Ohio 75⅝, decline ⅜; Brooklyn 47⅝, decline ⅛; Erie 24, decline ¼; Missouri Pacific 90⅞, decline ¼; Pennsylvania 114⅝, unchanged; Rock Island 21½, advance ⅛; St. Paul 140⅞, unchanged; Northern Pacific 46¾, decline ⅛; Union Pacific 84½, decline ⅛; Steel common 9¼, decline ¼; Steel preferred 54⅞, unchanged.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The lower prices for Americans in London this morning caused sympathetic declines at the opening of the stock market here at ⅛ to ¾. The market was entirely without feature and the dealings were on a small scale.

Bear operators put out additional lines of stocks and forced the market to a lower level. United States Steel preferred fell 1¼ and St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, Erie, Reading, Amalgamated, Brooklyn Transit and other stocks declined from ½ to 1. Kansas Southern gained 1¼ and Wabash ⅞.

The decline reached about a point in St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Southern Pacific, Sugar and other stocks. The selling pressure relaxed but the market fell into dullness and showed no disposition to rally. The Chicago Terminal stocks slumped suddenly, the common 1½ and the preferred 2¼.

Bonds were irregular at noon.

DOWN TURN IN GRAIN VALUES

Selling Increased by Generally Favorable Weather and Crop Conditions.

Bearish sentiment and speculation was very much in evidence, with this exception, sellers were rather shy of July wheat in the St. Louis market, so that decline here not as large as in other speculative centers. Generally favorable weather and crop information, larger receipts and weaker cash markets and small reductions in supplies were the influences that created the selling desire which was shown in all grains and caused the declines that followed. Weather conditions were not altogether favorable, as something very much like winter was seen in the Northwest. Nor were crop conditions altogether of the best as seeding of spring wheat not completed in North Dakota and some bad spots noted in the winter wheat crop, so the weather bureau stated. It also spoke of delay in planting corn in the Ohio valley decidedly behind, but made a flattering report on oats. Cash corn received a black eye in the local market, so much more for sale than apparently wanted, elevators taking more than shippers, and oats and wheat lower as demands limited.

WHEAT—Freezing temperatures across the British line and snow in Montana, with a stronger opening in Minneapolis, induced buying that put prices up ⅛@¼d in the home market, but then weakened on free offerings, the inclination of speculation towards the selling side. Outside the cold weather north, which could not harm the crop of that section, conditions were favorable and the news from winter wheat highly satisfactory. Receipts were only 20,100 bu at this point, against 23,000 bu a year ago, but at Kansas City 119,700 bu against 76,800 bu last year. The only foreign market heard from was London, which ⅛@¼d higher. July opened at 85⅛c and sold off to 84⅞c. Sept. opened at 80⅝c and Dec. at 82c—⅛c decline for both.

A rally to 85⅛c for July was followed by selling on Bradstreet's small decrease in world's supplies that weakened price to 84⅝c. September was offered at 80⅝c.

Weekly weather bureau report was generally favorable, though spring wheat seeding in North Dakota still delayed. Cables reporting London and Antwerp unchanged, Berlin ½@¼c lower. Budapest ⅛c higher were received. Primary receipts were 258,000 bushels against 320,000 bushels, and shipments 249,000 against 356,000 bushels last year. Clearances in flour and wheat were 71,000 bushels.

Delay in planting corn in Central Mississippi and Ohio valleys reported by weather bureau, but the general reading fairly satisfactory. The market was weak all the forenoon, July selling down to 47⅛c. May sold at 50c to 49⅞c. For September, 46c was bid. Primary receipts were 538,000 bu, against 765,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 350,000 bu against 355,000 bu last year. Clearances were 36,000 bu.

July sold at 84½@84⅝c, but later rallied to 84¾c, again dropping to 84½@84⅝c and reaching to 84⅝@84¾, which asked at close. September then offered at 80⅝c and December at 82c. No attempt made to trade in May and no market quotable.

Cash market—Lower and rather heavy; demand limited to nearest requirements. By sample delivered—No. 2 red sold at $1.09 and No. 3 red at $1.08¼ for choice destination, ordinary quotable at $1.08@1.06. No. 4 nominally 90c@$1.02 as in quality. No. 2 hard sold at 98c@$1; No. 3 hard at 89@96c and Turkey worth 97c; No. 4 hard, nominally 80@89c.

CORN—No fault could be found with the weather in principal corn-raising section and no complaints regarding the crop. Predictions for increased receipts were also borne out by 76,000 bu in here, against 69,200 bu one year ago, and larger amounts posted for Chicago and Kansas City. The effect was weakening, but speculative interests so light little done. July opened at 47⅛@47⅝c and soon offered at 47½c.

Later July had 47⅝@47⅛c bid, but at close offered at 47⅛c. May was offered at 49½c and unsold. September not mentioned.

Cash market—Depressed by large offerings and buyers holding off causing fully 2c decline. By sample delivered, No. 2 sold at 50½c to 50c, and old 52c to 50½c; No. 3 sold at 48⅝c to 48c; No. 4 at 46c to 44½c; No. 2 yellow at 51½c; No. 2 white at 53c and 51½c and old 53c; No. 3 white at 50c to 49c.

OATS—Good receipts—68,850 bu, against 31,050 bu one year ago—and favoring weather for the crops were bearish. July was offered at 36⅞c, but no buyers at that.

A favorable report on prospects of the oat crop and harvesting progressing in the South was made by the weather bureau. The market continued weak and offers to sell July at 36½c and September at 30¼c found no sellers. Primary receipts were 403,000 bu, against 475,000 bu, and shipments 372,000 bu, against 277,000 bu last year. Clearances were nothing.

At close July was offered at 36½c and Sept. at 30¼c.

Cash market—Lower, but a better demand, though considerable carried over. By sample delivered—No. 2 at 42@42½c; No. 3 at 41@41¼c; No. 4 at 40c; No. 2 white at 45c; No. 3 white at 43@44½c; No. 4 white at 40@42c.

RYE—Scarce and firm. No. 3 sold at 70c local; No. 2 quotable at 72c.

Trade Topics.

Broomhall cabled: The following is a condensation of foreign crop conditions as published in Broomhall's Liverpool Corn Trade News: United Kingdom, France, Germany and Italy—Crop conditions continue favorable but growth of the plant rather slow. Roumania—It is thought the recent rains reported in region around Braila came too late to save the crop; elsewhere conditions are fair to good. Russia—Taking the country as a whole there has been some improvement in crop prospects, but reports from different sections are varied on this point. Complaints, however, chiefly refer to rye. North Africa—Crop outlook continues most favorable. Sweden—The season is late.

FLOUR—An occasional sale of special brand, usually soft winter for bakers, made for export. Most business for domestic account and that fair. Quotations on soft winter in wood: Patents, $5@5.10, and special brands, 15@25c higher; straights, $4.85@4.95; extra fancy, $4.70@4.80; clear, $4@4.10; medium and low grades, in jutes, $2.75@3.40. Hard winter in jutes: Patents, $4.15@4.30; straights, $3.95@4.05; clears, $3.15@3.50; lower grades, $2.50@2.75. Spring wheat patents, in bulk, $4.50@4.70.

MILLFEED—Steady. Offerings and demand light. Bran in 100s salable at 98c for shipment and $1 local; mixed feed at $1@1.01. At mill bran jobs at $1.03 and ships at $1.10.

HAY—Firm and tending upward in price for best feeding grades, supply of which scanty. Medium and low grades quiet. Market basis east track: Timothy, choice, $14.50@15; No. 1, $13@14; No. 2, $11@12.50; No. 3, $7@9. Clover—$11.50@12 for No. 1 and $8@9 for No. 2. NOT MUCH LIFE TO TRADING TODAY

Sales Were Scattered Through the List, but Sales Were Only in Small Lots.

The market this morning on the St. Louis Stock Exchange showed more diversified trading than usual, but the transactions were mainly in small blocks. Prices were well maintained on the majority of the list, but brokers were not well supplied with orders and there was but little disposition towards speculative account.

International Bank made another gain this morning, selling at $210 for a 10-share lot, as compared with the last sale at $205. An odd lot of St. Louis-Union Trust Co. stock went at $325 and 5 shares of American Indemnity went at yesterday's price of $165.

Transit prices were easier in the bidding without any recorded sales. Preferred was a shade higher than yesterday afternoon on limited sales, with a fairly active market for the bonds at fractionally lower prices.

National Candy 1st preferred was on the sales list to the extent of 15 shares at $88 with amount bid for.

DONOVAN COMMISSION CO. ON THE MARKETS.

ST. LOUIS, May 24.—It's a shame to take the money. Another good slice of profits was cut out of wheat and they weren't so bad in corn and oats for the people who took my tip to sell the bunch when they were skyrocketing the other day. It looked a cinch to me, and it proved to be one. Speculation has massed up pretty well on the selling side recently, and it has become popular, and if not too much so it will be if something doesn't head it off or start it the other way. This growing weather has started something else to growing besides the crops, and that is bearish speculation. It's about in bloom now and is nearly ready to be cut. I believe in cutting in ahead of the crowd and that is why I am going to tell you to cut in on any further decline and secure the profits you may have on sales. This goes on wheat, corn and oats. They may be beaten down some lower, but I am inclined to look for a good rise to start any moment. The weather is too frosty up North with June knocking for admission and the crops are not A1. Corn planting is late in sections and spring wheat isn't all in. And that bullish cash situation in wheat will be heard from again. Watch my smoke.

217 Pine street. HARRY REED.

RECEPTION FOR JAPAN'S MINISTER

Secretary of Washington Legation, Who Has Just Arrived, Is Making the Plans.

Arrangements for a reception in honor of Kogoro Takahira, minister from Japan to the United States, who is expected in St. Louis Thursday or Friday, are being completed by Masanao Hanihara, secretary of the Japanese legation at Washington, who has arrived in the city.

The minister will not be accompanied by any members of the legation. He will remain until after the dedication and formal opening of the Japanese pavilion, June 1, taking part in the ceremonies. Members of the World's Fair Japanese colony are arranging for several entertainments in his honor.

Jerry Reardon and John Strobel, who were held to the grandjury Monday, following an inquest into the death of John Woods, Jr., who was shot near a restaurant at 902 North Seventeenth street, Sunday night, was released Monday night on bonds of $20,000 each, both bonds being signed by Charles A. Lemp. Judge McDonald made a special trip to the Four Courts about 10 o'clock to accept the bonds.

BALLARD NOT THE ONLY TIRED ONE

Breckinridge Jones Reported Likewise Ready to Quit Jefferson Club Directorate.

Following the hesitancy on the part of the policemen members of the Jefferson Club in payment of their dues because, it is believed, they wish to strengthen themselves with Joseph W. Folk in event of his election, comes the threat on the part of officers of the club, as told in Monday evening's Post-Dispatch, to withdraw their support from the organization.

T. R. Ballard, who is both police commissioner and treasurer of the club, is said to be disgusted at the lack of interest the police showed in the recent order instructing them to pay their club dues, and is said to have placed his resignation in the hands of the directorate, April 20. Breckenridge Jones is also said to be anxious to be relieved from his membership in the club's directorate.

Visions of a new building which would be a credit to the club and the party, cherished by members of the club before the primaries last March, have not only vanished, but the inability to even pay rent on its present Grand avenue quarters is said to be one of the club's present troubles.

The growth of the Folk movement is blamed for lack of interest on the part of the members and the consequent dwindling of dues. It is asserted that the club's lease on its Grand avenue headquarters will expire in the fall and that claim for unpaid rent will then be made by the owner.

CHASED BY ANGRY CITIZENS

Two Men Who Attacked Women on Street Saved Themselves by Running.

An angry crowd of citizens pursued two men Monday night for three blocks along Pine street, after the men had struck three women a number of times. Excitement ran high for a few minutes and had not the assailants of the women succeeded in eluding the mob they would undoubtedly have been harshly dealt with.

While Mrs. Orie Dix and Misses Alice and Neva White, all residing at 1321 Pine street, were walking along the street in the vicinity of their home they were accosted by two well-dressed young men, who, without provocation, struck each of them several times. Mrs. Dix fell unconscious to the sidewalk and was taken to the City Hospital, suffering from a fractured skull. Her condition is serious.

A number of men who were standing not far away gave chase to the assailants of the women, but the latter escaped after running three blocks.

Perdicaris Heard From.

LONDON, May 24.—A dispatch from Tangiers, Morocco, to the Times says letters have been received from Ion Perdicaris, the wealthy American, who was kidnaped a few days ago by badits. The writer says he is being well cared for and is in good health.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Robert Hazlett Gross and her infant daughter of Las Vegas, N. M., are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Anderson of 3744 Lindell boulevard.

BAGABO TRIBESMEN COMING.

Philippine Natives Who Offer Human Sacrifices Affect Gorgeous Wearing Apparel.

There is to be another tribe of semi-savages at the World's Fair, 38 members of the Bagabo tribe having left the Philippines May 17. These people are said to be the most picturesque and peculiar of the inhabitants of the far distant islands. Differing from some others, however, they wear clothes, and very gorgeous garments, too. Their clothing is almost completely covered with beads made from the shell of the nautilus, being exactly like those found in the caves supposed to have been occupied by prehistoric man.

The Bagabos are the only Philippine people who offer human sacrifices. Great prestige is added to him who offers a member of his family as a sacrifice. They have rarely come in contact with the American troops and have few civilised traits.

Upon arrival at the Fair, the Bagabos will be isolated from the other tribes at the Exposition.

Luscious Cherries Arrive.

Five boxes of luscious big cherries, the first and finest produced in California, have just been added to the wonderful California fruit display in the Agriculture and Horticulture buildings at the World's Fair. The cherries ripened this year two weeks earlier than usual, and are being given out to visitors at the California exhibit. They were grown in the Sacramento district and the first box shipped this season sold in Chicago for $5 per pound.

Mrs. Newlywed and Mrs. Butterwise

WHAT HAPPENED AT BREAKFAST.

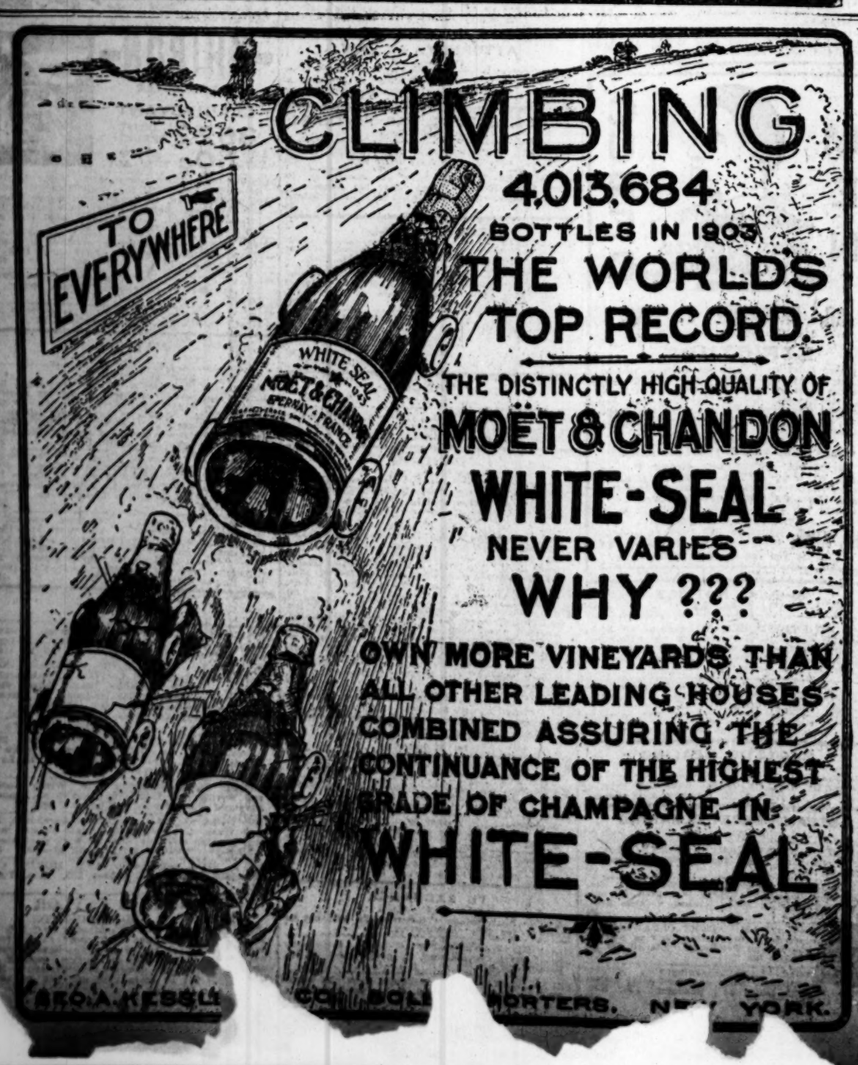

A Little Domestic Annoyance which Led to Some Good Advice.

Mr. Newlywed had just left the house, and Mrs. Newlywed sat looking at his plate of untouched buttered toast. She knew Mr. N. was right. The butter certainly did have a decidedly "fishy" taste, and it was only a morning or two ago that it was redolent of onions.

Mrs. Newlywed was in despair. She patronized a good tradesman, paid a good price for her butter, and it was really too bad to have it spoiled in this manner.

Just then Mrs. Butterwise happened in, and listened patiently while Mrs. N. told her butter troubles. Then she said: "My dear, you will always have such annoyances so long as you buy butter in the old-fashioned way. Tub butter and even print butter is always more or less exposed, and butter quickly absorbs odors. The dealer is not always to blame; the trouble is often in your own refrigerator. Now I want you to try my plan. Buy Meadow Gold Butter. It's the most delicious butter you ever ate, and is sealed at the creamery in an airtight, odor-proof package which brings it to the table fresh, pure and sweet. My dealer keeps it, and I am sure yours will get it, if you ask him."

ORSE-FLY? KNOW HOW RSHIP WORKS

ays He Will Sew Buttons on M· evice Which Had Its Origin ions on Farm.

a screw propeller. That idea is a century old. It is not the real thing for airships. The horse-fly wing propeller is better. I expect to prove that by taking the big prize and letting Santos-Dumont have one of the smaller prizes."

Mr. McGary is a farmer. His homestead is six miles west of Memphis, Mo. In his youth he was a carpenter and cabinet-maker, and for years he has been of an inventive turn of mind.

"In observations on my farm I noticed that the dragon-fly and the horse-fly moved much more swiftly through the air than birds did.

"I caught several horse-flies and began work with them in my farmhouse. I tied a thread around a fly's body, passing it under his wings and then tied the other end of the string, which was about three feet long, to a toy balloon, a regular red toy balloon that children play with. When I would push the balloon and the fly out into the space the thread would jerk the fly and he would dangle and die.

Pulled Balloon in Any Direction.

"So I changed from thread to rubber bands. When I pushed the fly out into space tied to the rubber band, the elastic prevented it from jerking and the fly would move in any direction I wanted to and carry the balloon with him.

"I made him move in a certain direction this way: I darkened the room, and I pushed the fly into space. I let in light at one corner. The fly moved towards the opening admitting the light.

"I was so well satisfied with this experiment that I decided to equip a small boat with wings patterned after those of the horsefly. Before doing so, I made tests with wings shaped like those of a bird, too.

"Birds' wings consist of a series of feathers. I made wings for a boat shaped in that way—that is like a shutter. In comparing these with the horsefly wings I made my important discovery. That is, that while a horsefly's wings propel him forward both with the up stroke and the down stroke, the bird's wings push him forward only with the upward stroke. This explained to me why a horsefly travels faster than a bird.

"This is due to this reason. On the upward stroke of a bird's wings, the air strikes an inclined plane of feathers. Coming down, the feathers separate and the air goes through like through a sieve. A horsefly's wings are solid. The air strikes it the same way going up and down. In both cases the stroke aids in the propelling.

"So I was satisfied that I had the right idea in building the wings for my airship car after the fashion of a horse-fly's wings.

"I experimented further by attaching a small with wings to the end by a strong rubber band. This I wound about a windlass. When I let the rubber out the loosening by the fastening revolved the wheels and sent the car forward.

"I had the car attached to an arm of a central post and it moved the car and the arm to which it was attached, swinging about the post quite rapidly.

"From this idea I built my airship.

"The operators of the airship will stand in the car and work the handles of the wings up and down. It will be guided with fish-tail rudder."

Mr. McGary explains that the car he has brought to St. Louis is 21 feet long, 5 feet wide and 4 feet deep. It is possible that he may install an electric motor instead of hand power, he says. The car will hang beneath a large balloon filled with hydrogen. Mr. McGary says he is ready to make a test ascension as soon as the appartaus can be unpacked and the balloon inflated with hydrogen.

Several of Mr. McGary's fellow-citizens in Scotland County are aiding him in having his invention given a thorough test in St. Louis.

ALL MAY BUY HALF RATE FAIR TICKETS

National ommission Goes the Exposition One Better in Matter of Admissions.

By an order issued Monday by the national commission, the sale of half-rate admission tickets will be extended to the general public. This order was the result of a lengthy conference between the executive committee of the Exposition and the national commission, which were in session inPresident Francis' office for two hours.

The effect of this will be the sale to the general public of a photographic, non-transferable ticket containing 50 coupons for $12.50. This will be in effect a season ticket for half the price. The season ticket, which contains a coupon for every day of the fair, sells for $25. Very few would use a coupon each day, and the $12.50 ticket will serve the same purpose as a season ticket.

The national commission Saturday refused to approve the action of the Fair management in selling these tickets at this price to subscribers to the stock, who had paid up. The commission declared this to be in reality declaring a dividend on the paid-up stock, which was in violation with the agreement with the government, which was that the government was to be considered a favored creditor and no first lien should be given any other creditor.

The national commission will immediately prepare order blanks and will issue them to all applicants except Fair stockholders, who may get the tickets without such orders. It is the general belief among Exposition officials that there will be a very large sale of these tickets for the reason that they will be looked upon as season tickets. All the coupons are good for admission on any day before December 1, when the Fair closes. The time limit for the purchase is June 15.

The sale of the half-rate 50 coupon tickets to owners of Fair stock, which was discontinued Saturday, was resumed Tuesday morning.

Washington, Mo., and Return, $1.00.
Leaving 8:20 a. m., Sunday, May 29th. Tickets at Missouri Pacific Railway, Sixth and Olive and excursion agents at Union Station and Tower Grove. "Griffin Excursions."

SAYS ST. LOUIS POLICE CAN ARREST IN COUNTY.

The county court of St. Louis County received a communication Monday from Attorney Lee Mudd, protesting against the appointment of an extra force of deputies for the sheriff's office in assisting in preventing the gamblers and confidence men from working in the vicinity of the World's Fair grounds. Mr. Mudd contends that the police of St. Louis are authorized to make arrests in St. Louis County by the act passed in 1876, separating the county and city.

He also says that the city police have been offered to the county for work near the Fair grounds, and that no emergency exists for the appointment of a large force of deputy sheriffs.

Fined for Assault.

Edward Wilson, keeper of a saloon near 4200 Duncan street, was fined $25 Tuesday morning in City Hall police court for assaulting Mrs. Margaret Ryan of 4200 Duncan street who went to the saloon to notify the proprietor to sell her husband no more liquor. She testified that Wilson thereupon knocked her down with a baseball bat and threw her out of the saloon. She is the mother of thirteen children and said that her husband did not support his family when drinking.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER. Published by THE PULITZER PUBLISHING CO., 210-212 N. Broadway.

AFFIDAVIT OF CIRCULATION
ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH.

STATE OF MISSOURI, CITY OF ST. LOUIS, ss.

Personally appeared before me, a notary public in and for the city of St. Louis, Mo., W. C. Steigers, Business Manager of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, who deposes and says that the regular editions of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch for the last four months (January, February, March and April, 1904), after deducting all copies returned by newsboys and copies left over, spoiled in printing and unaccounted for, averaged,

DAILY ONLY.....143,155
SUNDAY ONLY.....230,061

IN THE CITY OF ST. LOUIS AND SUBURBS ONLY, THE DAILY DISTRIBUTION AVERAGE FOR THE MONTHS OF JANUARY, FEBRUARY, MARCH AND APRIL WAS 124,647.

W. C. STEIGERS, Business Manager.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 20th day of May, 1904. HARRY M. DUHRING.
My term expires Aug. 14, 1905.

The marines will now hear all the World's Fair stories.

If Funston did not swim and Roosevelt did not charge, what do school histories amount to?

The "handmaiden of protection" is now in the position of a Philippine wife. Alas for sweet Reciprocity!

The farmers brought prosperity out of hard times for the nation. The farmers can give Missouri clean government.

An execution in St. Louis during the World's Fair period will considerably mar it, but visitors may get the idea that law is being enforced.

Police Commissioner Ballard's resignation of the treasurership of the Jefferson Club removes one reproach from the board of police commissioners.

A member of the Italian parliament has resigned to come to the United States. He has been dazzled, no doubt, by the career of Delegate Fontana.

"Will busting" has received a decided check in the verdict of an Illinois jury that a will dictated by spirits was legal. Heretofore, wills dictated by intelligent human beings have had but a shadowy chance in the courts.

Considering the number of Republican boodlers who have been convicted, a Republican legislature might not prove a blessing. No man should have a place on either ticket who has not a clean record and some capacity, whatever may be his political opinions.

COMPROMISE WOULD BE DEFEAT.

Circuit Attorney Folk has not yet answered the question put him by the Sunday Post-Dispatch as to what he would do in the event that a tainted ticket, packed with men who represent all that he has fought, were nominated by the Democratic convention; but Congressman Vandiver, who is the leader of the Folk forces, emphatically declares that he is opposed to Cook for secretary of state and Orchard for treasurer, and intimates that Mr. Folk would refuse the nomination under certain conditions.

The honest Democrats of the state, who have fought for reform within the Democratic party and for new and honest leadership should take warning. The fight is not won until every official and unworthy leader is retired to private life. All of the fruits of the reform victory would be hazarded by a compromise with the corrupt bossism which has disgraced the Democratic party. Compromise would be defeat.

Campaign contributions to influence official action against public interests is a blending of bribery and boodling as intolerable as any form of crime which has been exposed since the investigations in St. Louis and Missouri began.

LET THE PEOPLE IN.

The reason for the withdrawal of the objection of the national commission to the sale of 50 tickets at half price to Exposition stockholders is as hard to understand as the reason for the objection. The objection that it was a dividend on the stock was hardly tenable, but if it was valid in point of law it is difficult to see how its validity is affected by extending the privilege to friends of the commission.

But the objection served a good purpose in broadening the opportunity to purchase half-rate tickets. The form of tickets to be obtained at reduced rates should be multiplied. The great purpose of the Exposition is educational and its wonderful exhibits in the arts and industries of the world should be placed within reach of as many people as possible.

In order to reap the full benefit of the Exposition it is necessary that it be visited many times, it is necessary that the poor, especially the youth of the land, be enabled to study the exhibits. Offering opportunities to the people to see the Exposition is sound public policy which should be supported and encouraged, rather than checked by the government. The government's loan of $4,000,000 is of small consequence as compared with the enjoyment by the people of the educational advantage of a visit to the Exposition. The government is entitled to the money under the terms of the loan, but the loan should not be permitted to interfere with the great purpose of the Exposition. Make wide the opportunity to visit the Exposition.

Perhaps the most significant thing at the World's Press Parliament was the babel of tongues. It showed the universality of interest taken in this effort to bring the press of the world into harmony upon the common interests of nations and to promote international peace. It also indicates the difficulties in the way of the effort to thoroughly socialize and bring into harmony peoples of diverse tongues, customs and points of view. But an admirable beginning has been made in bringing journalists, who can do so much to create a sound public opinion among their own peoples, together in an organization seeking to harmonize the interests of all nations.

"SOCIAL SECRETARIES" FOR SHOP GIRLS.

The "mother-social-secretary" for shop girls is a recent development. There are now 13 of them in the country, and an effort is being made to supply every department store in New York with one of these new marvels. Doubtless the movement will spread to St. Louis.

The mother-social-secretary takes care of the shop girl as a mother should, though she represents both employer and employe. She shows the girls how to spruce up, how to wear their hair, how to dress well, within their incomes; how to make the most of lunch-time, and in general how to live happily in the shop-girl sphere. She will preside at the lunch-room, if there be one, act as librarian and will be the general advisor of all the young women who work in the establishment.

This is excellent for the shop girl. But it leaves the house-girl problem in a worse state than ever. If shop girls are to be thus favored, housewives will have to learn the mother-social-secretary business and put it in practice, as a means of self-defense. Otherwise, all the girls will flock to the shops and the household will be completely neglected. Some one should write a book on "Every Housewife Her Own Mother-Social-Secretary."

RHYMERS AND JOKERS.

The American Press Humorists.
BY WILLIS LEONARD CLANAHAN.

I.

Oh, the humorists are coming to St. Louis on the run!
They are out for recreation and for every kind of fun,
And there will be something doing, something stirring—"Sure, Mike!"—
When that bunch of joke-constructors do a hot-foot down the Pike.

II.

There'll be Reese from San Francisco and McCardell from New York;
Sullivan (James T.) from Boston, but primarily of Cork;
Foley, J., from North Dakota—oh, wherever you may strike
You'll be sure to hit a poet or a joker on the Pike!

III.

There'll be Kiser from Chicago, Gillilan from Baltimore;
Willie Kirk, I know, will surely set the busy bunch a-roar—

The Pair That Made Milwaukee Famous.

He who made Milwaukee famous—and he's itching now to hike
With James Barton Adams—Denver's cowboy poet—down the Pike.

IV.

Alexander (Grif) of Pittsburg, and a bunch from Cleveland, O.—
Gibson, Rose and Cooke and Raper—will be here to see the show;
And the busy H. E. Warner, president, his gait will strike
When he dashes like a dandy 2-year-old along the Pike.

V.

Stuart will roll in from Denver; Graves, the somber, from St. Jo.;
Smith and Nesbit from Chicago, Applegarth from Buffalo—
These and other way-up jesters whom the people know and like
Will join in the merry doings when the poets hit the Pike.

VI.

Lampton from New York is coming, to emit a yawp or two;
Ell Perkins, famous liar, will relate some fables new;
Even Bob Burdette, the pastor, into mischief then will dike,
Actuated by the spirit that prevails along the Pike.

Why Cook and Allen Should Be Defeated.
From the Monroe City, Mo., News.

Folks' nomination is now practically assured. The great question now is to get the rest of the ticket in harmony with the head. Every man who has been fighting Folk and the reform he represents is now working desperately to secure the nomination of Cook and Allen. Most of the machine has surrendered to the boodle prosecutor, finding opposition useless; but all these men are trying to save Cook and Allen.

There must be a reason for this; and it is not far to find. They want to hinder reform as much as possible, and to save all the machine that can be secured from the wreck. It is well known that Cook is the brains of the machine, the man who has done more to organize it than any other. True, he has done good work for the Democratic party during campaigns, but in other matters he has done bad work. He is shown to have been engaged in lobbying for pay while he was chairman of the party committee. This is bad for an anti-lobby party. He was a voluntary witness to bribery. Knowing of the corruption, he concealed it. He held secret caucuses with the anti-Folk men to devise means to head off the movement in favor of making the boodle prosecutor governor.

For all these reasons he would be a heavy load on the Democratic ticket this fall.

CAN ARISTOCRACY GROW IN AMERICA?

Reviewing the Role of the Very Rich, This Anonymous Writer Doubts It —A Perpetual Fiber Is Needed, Which Wealth Always Fails to Supply.

UNDER the interrogative headline, "Is America Developing an Aristocracy?" a writer in the June Everybody's, who "for obvious reasons" withholds his name, indulges in personalities both interesting and pertinent.

But first, "What is aristocracy?" he asks.

"In its European sense, aristocracy is a permanence of family superiority, persisting through generations, in spite of all vicissitudes." It is for the next two generations to decide whether we are likely to develop such a type in America, but "evidence is available which will enable us to form a judgment."

"Two representative young sons of millionaires are Harry Payne Whitney and J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr. Both are in the third generation of distinction.

"Mr. Whitney's grandfather was Gen. James S. Whitney of Massachusetts. Mr. Morgan's grandfather was Junius Spencer Morgan, the partner of George Peabody. Mr. Whitney's father, however, inherited only a high name and noble traditions; while Mr. Morgan's father inherited $10,000,000, together with the most rigorous training and extended education; few now know that Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, Sr., so distinguished himself in mathematics while at Heidelberg that he was invited to become a teacher in that ancient university.

"Both boys were their father's intimates. Both boys commended themselves satisfactorily to their fathers. Whether these sterling young men will ever equal their fathers is yet to be seen; but they do not seem likely to faint by the way.

"George Gould, Clarence Mackay, Charles Gates, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the Belmonts, Foxhall Keene, are only of the second generation of distinction, and so are not from our point of view as significant in this study as the Whitney Morgan and Vanderbilt boys; but from another point of view they are deeply important, for they are instances before our eyes of the immediate force of heredity and paternal training.

"The early youth of Mr. George Gould was no merry playtime. The iron of the parental will was in the discipline meted out to the elder son of the house. Judicious, untiring, unyielding, he is a characteristic son of Jay Gould. His own young sons, Kingdon, Jay and George, he is training in a wise rigorousness. He varies their studies under their tutors with excursions into business. They are taken on trips of instruction over his railroads, and the oldest, who is almost 17, already is more familiar with the actual conditions of these roads than many men on Wall street. This is, perhaps, the most remarkable business education of young boys which the country has seen. * * * Of course the unique product of the Gould family is the large-hearted daughter."

"Two other young men who have inherited their fathers' instinct for power and business judgment are Clarence Mackay and Charles Gates." The former, on the death of his father, "abandoned the energy-consuming pleasures of the idle rich, pulled himself together, and undertook the responsibilities of his new positions. * * * His social standing is not less established. His mother, the humble maiden of a rough frontier, had amazed foreign courts by her adaptability and unostentatious certainty of herself. The son's instincts have been as felicitous, and a judicious marriage alliance with the Duer family has still further underwritten the Mackay rank."

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has "a projecting individuality. While it is like his father's in its main lines, it varies enough to give the young man a place of his own * * * Though he seems to care nothing for fashionable society, he is winning the glory and the money with which his sons may claim the highest social place."

Of the Belmonts, "the eldest, August Belmont, alone maintains the important tradition of the family. There also are the Goelets, prominent recently because of the union of a daughter of that house with the Duke of Roxburghe. Immense wealth is here, and solidly based, but the present generation shows no inclination to take any responsibilities outside society and sport. They are mere ambitious butterflies, so far. Another of this class is Foxhall Keene, descendant of that daring operator of the stock market, James R. Keene.

"There has been but one reason for calling up the personalities of this small troop of young men of inherited wealth. It is that, if an organic aristocracy is ever developed here in America, these urgent young men are the kind of men, and their successes are the kind of distinction, that will bring it to pass. Such families of push and wealth will make it, if it ever is made.

"The aristocracies of the Old World were started by men in armor, the mightiest in battle. If a new aristocracy is to arise it is natural that it should be founded by the picked, unconquered swordsmen of finance." But "the decisive challenge which always will face the families of an embryonic aristocracy is, Can your sons carry the thing on? That is the question which the Vanderbilts are now busy with.

"If the formation of a permanent aristocracy depended alone on the Vanderbilts the present promise would be shaky. Here is a group of the fourth generation, and the only man of undoubted pith is the estranged and disinherited one. If the estate should now disintegrate there would apparently be nothing left but the memory of a great name. Of inward superiority there seems no mark save in Cornelius, who, so to speak, with six or seven millions, is beginning at the bottom again.

"The Astor estate is still more solid than that of the Vanderbilts. Nothing short of a socialistic cyclone could upset its value, apparently. And John Jacob Astor in the fifth generation. Here it would seem, is a breaking of the rule of 'shirt-sleeves to shirt-sleeves by the fourth generation.' The Astors are only one generation ahead of the Vanderbilts, yet when the Vanderbilts began to be social leaders the Astors were felt to represent a type of the real thing which the Vanderbilts never could attain.

"Mr. John Jacob Astor is an excellent type of a stout line thinning out, and yet preserving high traditions and assuming duteous responsibilities. In the business field he shows an obvious diminishing. As a business man he is intelligent, but neither creative nor dominant. On the other hand he has a high sense of his civic duty. He does not try to escape jury service. He is willing to pay his taxes. If he had a fair chance of election he would enter politics. He has an enthusiastic Americanism. He also has artistic tastes and has written a creditable novel.

"Such a case illustrates clearly the utter impossibility of a persisting aristocracy here. The effective carrying power from generation to generation is bound to miss fire. A fine, broad, moderate character as a gentleman is not enough. What is needed here to preserve that which the ancestors started is perpetual creation, perpetual energy of action, perpetual fibre. That is what the training of wealth sooner or later fails to give."

Still Upset.
"By the way, when was St. Louis settled?"

"Huh! It ain't settled yet. District Attorney Folk is still shakin' things up out there."—Philadelphia Press.

The heights of great men reached and kept,
Were not attained by sudden flight;
But they while their companions slept,
Were struggling upward in the night.

Wedding Anniversary.
From the New York Press.

The wooden wedding at the 7th anniversary is a joke. The pair are able to keep each other warm enough then without outside assistance. The 12th is all right for silk and fine linen, the 15th for crystal and the 20th for china. What is the 13th anniversary? We have already such weddings as the cotton, paper, leather, book, wooden, garnet, woolen, bric-a-brac, topaz, tin, silk and fine linen, crystal, china, silver, pearl, sapphire, ruby, golden and diamond. Why not a clock and watch wedding? Time begins to drag after the 13th year.

THE OUT-OF-TOWN CORRESPONDENT

BY REUBEN JASPER,
Special World's Fair Correspondent.
To the Editor of the Hayville Herald.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 23.—Today I was talking to a friend of mine, this here George P. Leffler of "The Editor and Publisher" of New York, who has been out here for a week or mofe, trying to see St. Louis as it really is or ought to be, and incidentally to pick up a few honest pennies on the side, and he give the World's Fair an awful rap, claiming that there was nothing to it, but a bunch of Igorrotes and a few hot tamales.

Honest, I don't know what was the matter with that feller. Somebody certainly must have charged him $14 a day for a room, to say nothing of board, and it didn't set well on his stummick.

That's the only way I can account for what he said to me down at the Planters.

Of course, this man Leffler may have been sleeping on Twenty-third street or some other old place, as far as I know, for I didn't have charge of him during the whole time he was here, but I know that he was in a good humor the night him and Robertus Love and me was down the Pike—and the other man, but I won't mention any names, because I don't want to lose no man his job.

This "Editor and Publisher" is a nice, moral sheet and I like it on that account, and I would be the last man in the world, you understand, to say a word again the good-looking young man with the small mustache who come here to represent the said sheet at the Publishers' Convention, but I want to say right now that if the true facts concerning this week's doing is ever related in the town of Hayville my name on a piece of paper won't be worth thirty cents.

Well, I've got an engagement out on the Pike tonight with Walter Williams and William Flewellyn Saunders and I've got to hurry. More anon.

"What are you doing?" says I to this here aboriginal friend of mine. "Trying to throw a wet blanket over the World's Fair?"

JAPAN'S DENSE POPULATION.

From the Toyo Keisai Zasshi (Tokio).

"We, the Japanese, are a wonderfully fecund people. In the beginning of the Meiji era (1868) our population was 20,000,000. Now it has already grown to over 45,000,000. The present rate of increase is 50,000 a year. The more the population increases the greater the rate of increase will become. * * *

"On the other hand, look at our territorial size. Except Formosa, which we acquired after the Chino-Japanese war, what addition have we made? Thus the density of population grows denser. Already, in Japan proper—that is Hondo, Shikoku and Kiushu—it is nearly 400 to the square mile. Even in Formosa it is now 220. Only Hokkaido has 30 to the square mile, and is capable of still welcoming several million souls. But considering the rapidity with which the Japanese people increase, the capacity of Hokkaido sinks into insignificance.

"But if once we made Corea an outlet for our surplus population, that country would be able to receive 10,000,000 easily. In the event of Corea becoming overpeopled, the tide of immigration could flood Manchuria, gradually inundating Siberia. Manchuria is two and a half times as large as Japan, yet its population is only 10,000,000. Siberia is thirty times as large as Japan, but does not contain 6,000,000 souls. If the Japanese expanded toward the limitless plains of Manchuria and Siberia, 50,000,000 of our countrymen might double—nay, treble themselves without incurring the danger of overpopulation. It is natural, therefore, for the ever-increasing Japanese people to expand toward those regions. Can this natural process be carried on without encountering opposition?"

Onion Socials.

CLEVER DOCTOR

Cured a 20 Years Trouble Without Any Medicine.

A wise Indiana physician cured 20 years stomach disease without any medicine as his patient tells:

"I had stomach trouble for 20 years, tried allopathic medicines, patent medicines and all the simple remedies suggested by my friends but grew worse all the time.

"Finally a doctor who is the most prominent physician in this part of the State told me medicine would do me no good, only irritating my stomach and making it worse—that I must look to diet and quit drinking coffee.

"I cried out in alarm, 'Quit drinking Coffee!' why, 'What will I drink?'"

"'Try Postum,' said the doctor, 'I drink it and you will like it when it is made according to directions, with cream, for it is delicious and has none of the bad effects coffee has.'

"Well that was two years ago and I am still drinking Postum. My stomach is right again and I know doctor hit the nail on the head when he decided coffee was the cause of all my trouble. I only wish I had quit it years ago and drank Postum in its place." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Never too late to mend. Ten days trial of Postum in place of coffee works wonders. There's a reason.

STORIES ABOUT PEOPLE.

Profiting by the Prophet.

When Joseph F. Smith, head of the Mormon Church, was in Washington to testify before the Smoot investigating committee he was visited by a young man who seemed greatly interested in what the president had to say about Mormon affairs. After a lengthy conversation President Smith, who was much gratified at having so attentive a listener, said:

"Young man, I hope this discourse will be profitable to you."

"It certainly will," replied the visitor. "I am a reporter, and I'm on space."—New York Press.

A Record-Breaking Run.

Judge Henderson M. Somerville of the board of United States general appraisers, once defended an Arkansas negro charged with robbery. The defense was an alibi. When the defendant took the stand he declared that he could not have been at the scene of the crime at the time it was committed, because it was "berry time," and he was in the woods.

"But how do you know you were in the woods on that particular day?" he was asked.

"Because, boss," was the reply, "on dat day I met a bar. He wuz de biggest bar I ever did see, and I run an' I run, till I come out on de lake, an' de ice broke, an' I fell in an' wuz nearly drowned."

"I thought you said it was berry time?" the prosecuting attorney exclaimed.

"So it wuz, boss, when I met dat bar, but he chased me from June clear into January."—New York Times.

Nye Played Part of Eugene Debs.

A. Eugene Michel, a nephew of Eugene V. Debs, tells an interesting story of how Bill Nye played the part of the Socialistic candidate for President while Mr. Debs waited at a South Carolina railway station for the committee which was to meet him.

Mr. Nye and Mr. Debs looked very much alike, and that is what led to the mistake. Both men were to have been in the little South Carolina town on the same day. The labor leaders made great preparations for the coming of Mr. Debs, but the reception committee was not informed that Mr. Nye would enter the town on the same train. Mr. Nye, however, was aware of Mr. Debs' expected presence, and when the committee hustled him into a cab without taking more than a casual look at his features, he accepted the honors. He was shown over the town and given every attention.

Even his love of a joke, however, would not permit him to punish an innocent man any undue length of time. After he had been shown everything of interest and the questions that were being asked him began to tax his imagination beyond his knowledge of labor situations, he grew most sympathetic for the man who he imagined was walking the station platform. Finally, when the joke on Mr. Debs began to make things too interesting for his impersonator, Mr. Nye called a halt. He entered a cigar store and purchased some of Carolina's best, and, returning to the edge of the sidewalk, passed the fragrant twisters among the committee.

After distributing the cigars very liberally, Mr. Nye walked off, with the remark that he "supposed Mr. Debs was awaiting them at the station." Not till then did the committee realize the mistake, and the members hurried back to the statin to find their own guest.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

The Hand That Rocks the Cradle.

Blessing on the hand of woman!
Angels guard its strength and grace
In the palace, cottage, hovel,
O, no matter where the place!
Would that never storms assailed it,
Rainbows ever gently curled;
For the hand that rocks the cradle
Is the hand that rules the world.

Infancy's the tender fountain;
Power may with beauty flow;
Mother's first to guide the streamlets;
From them souls unresting grow —
Grow on for the good or evil,
Sunshine streamed or darkness hurled;
For the hand that rocks the cradle
Is the hand that rules the world.

Woman, how divine your mission
Here upon our natal sod.
Keep, O keep the young heart open
Always to the breath of God!
All true trophies of the ages
Are from mother-love impearled.
For the hand that rocks the cradle
Is the hand that rules the world.

Blessings on the hand of woman!
Fathers, sons and daughters cry.
And the sacred song is mingled
With the worship in the sky—
Mingles where no tempest darkens,
Rainbows evermore are hurled;
For the hand that rocks the cradle
Is the hand that rules the world.
—William Ross Wallace.

HIPPOPOTAMUS HUNTING.

A hunter of big game in Africa writes: "Hippopotamus hunting, as a rule, is not exciting, except from a canal or boat, where the animal has a chance of turning the tables. If a clean shot is made he sinks like a stone and beyond a few bubbles on the surface nothing more is seen till he rises to the surface, belly up, in from one to four hours. One can generally tell by the thud of the bullet if the shot has told. It is mostly snap-shooting as they blow and a novice or excitable person will often waste a lot of ammunition banging away at every nose he sees bobbing up, irrespective of distance or position. The vulnerable spot is the brain, and it is advisable to wait for a side shot, when a bullet in the neighborhood of the ear will surely find it."

This hunter writes further: "When we camped on the Kafue schools of from ten to thirty hippopotami were found together, but after being disturbed several times they shifted to a huge swamp to the north, where the only way to get at them was by poling canoes through about a mile of reeds and narrow channels to the lake-like patches of open water whither they had retired. The only canoes we could get were dugouts, capable of carrying not more than three men, very narrow, mostly rotten and patched with lumps of moist clay to stop leakage. If capsized they sunk like stones. So, as the place was full of crocodiles, we had always a spare canoe at hand. We hunted them successfully several times in their swamps."

Being useful as butcher's meat, the big river horses were hunted systematically. The hunter, Mr. Wright, says: "All the fat which we used for cooking was procured from hippo. We had to feed from forty to fifty natives living on the station during the rains, when grain and native foods were difficult to get, so that a hippo, even if he weighed three tons, soon disappeared into biltong. Hippo make splendid tracks across country between bends of the river and the natives dig round, deep pits on these and cover them with branches and earth; the hippo, traveling about at night, drop head first into them."

Mrs. Nagg and Mr.— By Roy L. McCardell.

(Copyright, 1904, by the Press Publishing Company, The New York World.)

"I HAVE noticed it a long time, Mr. Nagg. You are tired of your home, you are tired of me, although I have been a good and gentle wife to you. I have made your home a haven of peace, but you do not care for that.

"I know that you are yearning for your old bachelor days when you belonged to a boisterous chess club and stayed out till all hours, sometimes as late as 11 o'clock, with that gay crowd.

"I can earn my own living. I will not be a drag upon you. Do not consider me. Only be frank. Tell me you are tired of your home and of our quiet, simple life and want to be a gay roisterer with your chess-playing friends.

"There is Col Wilkins, your old friend with the artificial legs. I know you long to be running around the town with him.

"Don't deny it. Didn't he and you go to the Museum of Natural History Sunday after Sunday in your wild bachelor days?

"Even before he had his artificial limbs and used to be pushed around in an invalid's chair you and he were two of the wildest men about town.

"And then there was your other friend, Prof. Hammerstine, the geologist. Your and he were gay rovers in those days. How many times did you go with Prof. Hammerstine to Fort Lee to bring home specimens from the Palisades?

"Men are deceitful and tricky. Col. Wilkerson has intentionally pretended to be an invalid for years simply to disarm suspicion. Perhaps, for all we know, he deliberately cut off his legs thinking then he might not be suspected when he lured married men away from their homes to go to his house and play chess with him.

"Chess is a brutal game. It leads to all sorts of dissipation. It makes a man moody and silent. Well, it does make them silent; you can't deny that!

"You won't go, then, if it displeases me, you say?

"Oh, no. Never let it be said that I kept you home when you would be out to all hours, getting yourself nervous and excited and unfit for business, playing that awful game of chess.

"Why can't we have a cheerful game of poker here at home? Or a game of whist where we can all talk?

"All right, you say?

"Come, mamma and Aunt Ellen and Brother Willie, Mr. Nagg insists we play cards.

"All right, Brother Willie, we will have stakes, if you say so.

"Whose deal is it? What's trumps? Is it my lead?

"Mamma, did you notice how Mrs. Gradley is looking? She is getting so fat. Oh, I know you think she is handsome, Mr. Nagg. You think every woman is handsome except your own wife.

"Why don't you play? Why do you sit there like a dummy? Don't you see everybody is waiting on you?

"My turn? Well, why don't you say so?

"Here I am sitting not saying a word and nobody tells me it is my turn to play.

"I trumped your ace? Well, what's the difference? Of course, I have a spade. Why don't I follow suit then? Because I don't choose to.

"Rules? What do I care for rules? I will play my way. I guess I ought to know. My poor papa was an elegant card-player; he lost all our money playing cards.

"What are you tearing your hair for, Mr. Nagg?

"Ah, I know; you don't care for a quiet little game of cards in your own home. We are not good enough for you.

"There he goes! That's the way he always does!"

Bulldogs, Meek and Ugly.

The bulldog of today is quite a different animal from the one which earned his name and fame from his prowess in the bull-baiting ring in times past says Country Life in America. Then it was what the dog could do, and not how he looked, that decided his merits. Now it is usually appearance alone which decides, and we have a vastly different dog not only in appearance, but also in disposition. Indeed, one objection against the bulldog is his "obtrusive affectionateness." Among the votaries of the bulldog are many ladies, who would not for a moment think of taking up with fighting dogs; and if the opportunity is accepted to see bulldogs in a judging ring you will note no such anxiety on the part of the dogs to get at one another nor care on the part of the holders of the chain to keep their charges apart as in a great many breeds. You will also see that the judge handles them with no precaution of the advanced fist as a preliminary.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

The Ehlermann Mansion For Sale

1605 Missouri avenue, southwest corner Whittemore place, fronting Lafayette Park, an ideal location; lot 96.6x140. Built of red brick, with granite and brown stone trimming, its fine roof of dark blue slate, and ample dormers, present a skyline broken with finials and crestings. The exterior is designed in secular Romanesque, and in this building is shown a happy adaptation of this style of architecture.

The first floor contains five rooms, grouped around a central hallway, of ample width, finished in antique oak, wainscoted in panels, with a fine mantel of rich Renaissance design. The library, to the left of the hall, is finished in natural cherry, with elegant bookcases and mantel in Colonial style. It is decorated in oil, on canvas in gray and white, with hardware and chandelier in old brass. Opposite on the right side of the hall is the large Reception Parlor, finished in the style of Louis XIV, in white and gold. This room is in "robin's egg blue," with Austrian cut glass chandelier.

Leading off from it on the west is the Music Room, finished in mahogany. Opposite the music room on the south side of the hall, is the Dining Room, octagonal in form, designed in the style of the German Renaissance. Fine mantel and colonnaded sideboard, with bent glass, beveled edge mirrors, make this a very handsome room. The Butler's Pantry, Kitchen and Rear Hall are finished in yellow pine, with matched curly yellow pine panels. Ample closets of all kinds, with specially designed refrigerator, are items in the general design. An alcove in the rear part of the main hall contains an artistically designed lavatory and forms at the same time a vestibule to the large covered Porte Cochere, on the west side of the building.

The second story contains five large bedrooms, of generous dimensions, communicating with each other and the hall by means of sliding doors, with magnificent view of every point of the compass, and so arranged that the ventilation through the rooms, into the halls and through the house is perfect. The main rooms have dressing rooms connecting. These rooms are all decorated and finished as handsomely as the first floor. Ample bathroom and lavatory conveniences are provided on this floor.

The third floor has been left as one large finished room, covering the entire area of the house, excepting the space in the tower, which is now used as a study.

The Basement contains a Billiard Room, situated under the Dining Room, octagonal in form, and provided with lavatory. The balance of the basement is devoted to the service of the house, coal and furnace room, heating by hot water, open tank system, the laundry, wineroom, etc., and is appointed and finished in the very best and most substantial manner. Altogether, the building has been carefully designed and honestly executed, and small details, such as lacquering all closet shelves, have not been overlooked.

The only occupants of this magnificent home at present being but two persons, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ehlermann, Mr. Ehlermann has determined to place this beautiful property on the market, furnished.

SIGHT OF "COW" MADE THEM "BEEF"

Moro Women Routed by Sister's Threat to Touch Them With Morsel of Meat.

THEY TURN IN A RIOT CALL

Mohammedan Teachings Forbid Them to Come in Contact With Flesh, Except by Fingers.

A chorus of frantic feminine shrieks from the quarters of the Mindanao and Samal Moros in the Philippine Cuartel Tuesday afternoon chilled the hearts of the white men in the offices in the front of the building with the fear that murder in its worst form was being done.

The white men rushed through the passageway in the direction of the screams expecting to see bolos dripping with the blood of victims.

They found three Moro women at bay in the end of the passage. Two of them were perched on the window sill and were on the point of tumbling out. The third was making frantic attempts to climb up the wall.

They were shivering and chattering as if they had seen an apparition.

Confronting them and menacing them was another woman. She had no bolo nor other deadly thing, but ever and anon as she extended her hand toward the three women they performed marvelous gymnastics and yelled bloody murder.

"What's the matter here?" demanded Mr. Williams of the purchasing agent's office, in precise pigeon Moro.

"Cow," yelled the three hysterical women.

It was even so. The woman who was enjoying herself by plunging her sisters into spasms was armed with a piece of beef no larger than a joint of one's thumb. She was threatening to touch the others with it, and their consternation could not have been greater if she had been holding a deadly reptile near them.

Their dread of "cow" is as great as the dread of a St. Louis woman for a mouse.

Moro women, who are Mohammedans, do not eat the flesh of any animal. They eat fish. The men eat beef and other meats, which accounts for the presence of the terrifying piece of "cow" in the cuartel.

The women may take a piece of "cow" in their fingers without serious consequences, but for any other part of their persons to be touched by it is the worst thing that could happen to them.

With a porterhouse steak one man could cause a thousand Moro women to flee and with two he could put 10,000 to flight.

"COP'S" "POP" MAKES CROWD HOP

Involuntary Wild West Performance Given by Bluecoat Causes Excitement on Broadway.

One of Chief Kiely's "finest" was the cause of great excitement at Broadway and Pine street at 10:30 Tuesday morning. The patrolman jumped off a Broadway car and was running to catch a car going down Pine street when his pistol dropped from his pocket and, striking the pavement, was discharged.

No one was injured, but immediately several hundred persons congregated around the spot. The policeman hastily recovered his "hip cannon" and resumed his journey.

ABE ATELL HERE; WANTS A MATCH

Came With Purpose of Taking on Frankie Neil at West End Club.

Abe Attell arrived in St. Louis Tuesday morning. The "little whirlwind" came without Ike Bloom and announced that he was looking for a fight at the West End Club.

"I will see President Haughton some time today," said the 122-pound champion, "in regard to a match between Frankie Neil and myself. Before I left Chicago Neil said that he would meet me in a 20-round fight at 120 pounds ringside. He insisted on the 20 rounds and will not go on in a shorter fight. It will keep me working to make the weight but I can do it and there is a good chance, I think, that we will meet at the West End club."

Jack McKenna was with Attell and both stated that if the Neil match fell through the champion would meet Johnny Regan in a 20-round battle in the near future. The weight for the Regan fight will be 122 pounds ringside. There is also a chance that Attell will be matched with Jack McClelland.

CONVENTION SEATS 10,034.

Subcommittee Makes Plans for Distribution of Coliseum Seats.

The subcommittee on arrangements of the national Democratic committee, composed of Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas, Daniel J. Campau of Michigan, J. G. Johnson of Kansas, J. M. Head of Tennessee, William J. Stone of Missouri and Norman E. Mack of New York, has decided to issue reserved seat tickets to the number of 10,034, including delegates and alternates' tickets, for the great national gathering which will be held at the Coliseum.

Of the number mentioned there has been set aside 352 press seats for active correspondents and 350 for the weekly press. For the representatives of St. Louis newspapers, John Schroers, chairman of the local committee, has requested 75.

E. P. Hitchcock, chairman of the press committee, and Secretary Charles H. Mann attended the meeting and outlined the formal plans for accommodating the press.

The committee has arranged to give each delegate to the convention three tickets.

At the conclusion of the business session yesterday evening the committee adjourned, to meet June 15.

City authorities have been four weeks engaged in a futile effort to get service on D. Jannopoulo of Webster Groves that he may be ordered to remove three small frame structures from King's highway and Lindell boulevard, where they are being used as ice-cream stands. A subpoena was finally issued for him in City Hall police court Tuesday morning and he is to be brought before Judge Tracy.

BEWARE

Every woman who values her complexion is cautioned that the genuine Lablache Face Powder bears the signature of "Ben Levy" in red across the label of the box. All others are counterfeits and dangerous.

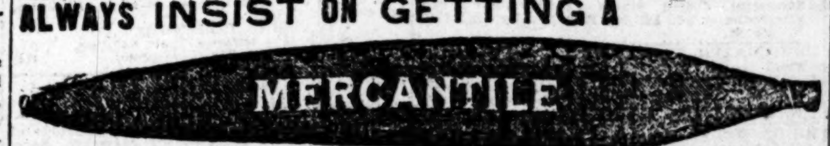

LABLACHE FACE POWDER

is pure, and contains no minerals. It is scientifically prepared to nourish and freshen the skin, remove all impurities and blemishes, and give health and charm to the face of the woman who uses it. It makes the skin smooth, clear and beautiful. Preserves a fine complexion, restores one which is faded. Its peculiar perfume is extracted from flowers and plants which possess antiseptic properties. Accept no substitute.
